Acknowledgement

I express my unreserved and heart-felt gratitude to Dr. A. Papa Rao Professor of Anthropology, Sri Venkateswara University, Tirupati, and eminent scholar in the field of Biological Anthropology and Population Genetics, for his dynamic supervision and creative guidance for which this present study could be planned and successfully completed. I feel myself extremely fortunate for having the opportunity to be a Ph.D. student under Prof. A. Papa Rao.

I am thankful to the Head, Department of Anthropology for providing me the necessary facilities to carry out this research work. I take this opportunity to thank all the faculty members of the Department for their encouragement and help on different occasions.

It is also my proud privilege to express my deep sense of veneration and thanks to Dr. K. Kodanda Reddy, Assistant Professor, Department of Anthropology, Sri Venkateswara University, Tirupati, for his intense scholarly advice and supervision at every stage of my research. His constant inspiration, healthy criticism put psychological buttress during the entire period of execution of this research work.

I also record my gratitude to Dr. K. Surendranatha Reddy, Assistant Professor, Department of Anthropology, Dr. P. Venkatramana, Academic consultant, Department of Anthropology, Sri Venkateswara University, Tirupati, and Dr. M. Padmaja, Assistant Professor, Center for South East Asia and Pacific Studies for their valuable suggestions and academic support throughout the research work.

My sincere thanks to Dr. P. Chandrasekhar Rao and Dr. K. Prabhakar, Post-Doctoral fellows, Department of Anthropology, Sri Venkateswara University, Tirupati, for their help.

I am indeed grateful to my colleague friends Mr. T. Babji Reddy, Mr. M. Satishnath Reddy and my cousins Mr. K. Anand Reddy and Mr. K. Adinarayana Reddy for his help during data collection.
My thanks are due in abundant measure to all my friends and well wishers, who helped me in gathering data and in assisting me for the analysis of data.

I should take this opportunity to convey my indebtedness to my wife Smt. K. Renuka for silent bearing of all day-to-day load of familial work and rendering me all possible support.

I am indebted to my mother Smt. K. Lakshmikanthamma and my father Sri. K. Veera Reddy to whom no amounts of verbosity would do justice to their contribution to my growth as a human being and towards my overall personality. I am also thankful to my brothers Mr. K. Madhusudhana Reddy, sister-in-law Smt. K. Sunitha, their son Mr. K. Pranav; Mr. K. Srinivasula Reddy, sister-in-law Smt. K. Suguna, and their children Mr. K. Jaswanth and Mr. K. Kushwanth; Mr. K. Ramanadha Reddy sister-in-law Smt. K. Padma and Sister Smt. M. Kalavathi, brother-in-law Mr. M. G. Mohan Reddy, and their children Prithvi Goutham and Mounika, who have instilled strength, support and inspiration at all times of my carrier.

Last but not the least I would like to thank all the subjects for their cheerful cooperation during the data collection.
