ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

By the blessings of Almighty and parents, the help and guidance rendered to me by a host of people, I could complete the thesis work.

I am deeply indebted to my research supervisor Dr. A. Papa Rao, Professor, Department of Anthropology, Sri Venkateswara University, Tirupati, for his involvement right from the selection of the research problem. His constant encouragement, able guidance and enthusiasm made me to finish this research in time. I know mere words are insufficient to thank him and convey my true feelings.

I am thankful to the Prof. P. Sudhakar Reddy, Head and Prof. V. Gangadhamam, BOS, Department of Anthropology for providing me the necessary facilities to carry out this research work. I take this opportunity to thank all the faculty members of the Department for their encouragement and help on different occasions.

I express my deep gratitude to K. Somasekhar, Secretary, Rural Development Society, Ongole for his guidance and extreme help at every stage of this work which made this thesis possible in the present form.

I am indeed grateful to my colleagues K. Penchalaih, G. Thirupal for their help during data collection. I record my thanks to my colleagues Chandra, Annaiah, Prasad, Kiran,
Nagarjuna, Ravi, Sundar and other friends and well wishers for their help during the field work.

I wish to express my debt of gratitude to Mrs. Dr.P.Arvinda, Mrs A. Haritha and Miss. A. Niveditha, who together with Prof. A. Papa Rao motivated me in completing this work. I am thankful to Dr. Y. Viraja and Dr. K.Lavanya Latha who offered encouragement and courage during the progress of the work.

I am very much thankful to J. Sekhar Babu, who helped me during data collection.

My mother Smt. Leelamma Kotte, father Sri. Aseervadam Kotte and brother Pratap Kotte to whom no amount of verbosity would do justice to their contribution to my growth as a human being and towards my overall personality.

I am happy to acknowledge the financial support from Rajiv Gandhi National Fellowship and Andhra Pradesh Council of Science & Technology (APCOST), Hyderabad for awarding young scientist fellowship.

Last but not least I would like to thank all the subjects for their cheerful cooperation during the data collection.
