ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

At the outset, with deep sense of gratitude, I praise and glorify the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ who has been graciously accompanying me in this research and enabling me to complete this special study.

I have no words that are adequate to express my indebtedness to my Research Director, Prof. Dr. B. David Raju, M.A., M.A., M.Ed., B.L., Ph.D.’ a Retired Professor of the Department of History & Archaeology, Acharya Nagarjuna University for his patient and pains-taking, and brilliant and skillful guidance, and for unending encouragement and for becoming inspiration and ray of hope at every stage of this research work. I am also grateful to Prof. David Raju for making available his personal collection of valuable research material which he had collected from the Lutheran School of Theology and from the Lutheran Archives, Chicago during his visit to these Institutions in USA on a Lutheran World Federation (LWF) Research Grant in 2007.

My heartfelt thanks are also due to Rev. Dr. A. G. Augustine Jeyakumar, the Executive Secretary of the United Evangelical Lutheran Churches in India (UELCI) for his kind strong recommendation and support in obtaining a LWF Scholarship for this research study and for his constant encouragement. I am also thankful to Rev. Dr. Ishmael Noko, the former General Secretary, and to Rev. Dr. Martin Junge, the present General Secretary of the LWF, Geneva for their commitment to empower women.

I also express my sincere thanks to Rev. Dr. Samuel W. Meshack, the former Principal of Gurukul Lutheran Theological College and Research Institute, Chennai and to my other colleagues for their solidarity and support.

I fail in my expression of thankfulness if I do not recognize the ever smiling advises of Dr. Mrs. K. Sarada Devi, Associate Professor, TJPS College, Guntur and a dynamic Women leader of our Church, for her valuable insights, timely interventions, suggestions and support in completion of this work.
I cannot forget the help and assistance rendered by the Librarians and Library Staff of different Institutions such as the Acharya Nagarjuna University, Nagarjunanagar; Andhra University, Waltair; Madras University, Chennai; Gurukul Lutheran Theological College and Research Institute, Chennai; United Theological College, Bangalore; Andhra Christian Theological College, Hyderabad I also thank the staff of the Lutheran Theological Seminary at Philadelphia for allowing me to consult and collect research material and data related to my research topic when I visited these Institutions in India and a trip to USA in 2011.

I am also highly thankful to Dr. Mrs. E. V. Padmaja, Assistant Professor and Coordinator, and other Staff of the Department of History & Archaeology for their kind help. I am indeed grateful to the Vice Chancellor, the Registrar and the Principal of Arts, Law and Commerce College of Acharya Nagarjuna University for permitting me to submit the dissertation for adjudication.

I am also thankful to Mrs. M. Lakshmi who with patience and utmost care computerized the draft of this thesis.

And finally, it is my moment of privilege to share my joy with my family, Rev. Dr. Busi Suneel Bhanu, former Moderator-Bishop of the Andhra Evangelical Lutheran Church (AELC) and currently Professor of Religion and Dalit Theology at Gurukul Lutheran Theological College and Research Institute, Chennai and our sons, Susheel Bhanu and Santhosh Bhanu as well as to our daughter in-Law Runu Latha for their affectionate and ever cheerful accompaniment. I am also indebted to my parents, the late Rev. Nakka Gnana Prakasa Rao and Mrs. Santhoshamma and to my sisters and brothers who had constantly walked with me in all my endeavours and achievements.
