ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This thesis is the end of my journey in obtaining my Ph.D. degree. I have not traveled in an empty space. This thesis has been on track and has been seen through to completion with the support and encouragement of numerous people around me including my supervisor and guide, my colleagues, friends, well-wishers and my family members. I would like to thank all those people who made this possible and an unforgettable experience. It is a pleasure to express my thanks to only some of whom it is possible to give particular mention here who contributed in many ways to the success of this journey and support in all stages of this work.

This would not have been possible without the inspiration, support and patience of my supervisor and guide, Dr. Jyotsna Kumar Mandal, Professor, Department of Computer Science and Engineering, Kalyani University, Kalyani, India, not to mention his advice and unsurpassed knowledge in the domain of computer network security and cryptography. I am indebted to him for continuous encouragement, motivation and all kind of helps.

I express my sincere gratitude to my colleagues in the Department of Computer Application, JIS College of Engineering, Kalyani, India, and all the stuff members for their help and support.

This gives me great pleasure to express my thanks to all teachers and staff members of the Department of Computer Science and Engineering, University of Kalyani, West Bengal, India, who helped me time to time in many ways during the period of my research work.

Last but not least, I would like to pay high regards to my parents Mr. Mantosh Paul and Mrs. Sandhya Paul. I could not have completed this dissertation without bless and love of them. Words are short to express my deep sense of love and thankfulness towards my wife Mrs. Sutapa Paul, daughter Sumedha Paul and son Shourya Paul, my younger brother Mr. Tapas Paul and other family members for their sincere encouragement and inspiration throughout my research work and lifting me uphill this phase of life. I owe everything to them. Besides this, several people have knowingly and unknowingly helped me in the successful completion of this thesis.
