"Guru Govind Dou Khade, Kaake Lagu Paye, Balihari Gurudevki, Govind Diyo Bataye."

Praises and thanks to almighty for having bestowed the blessings on me to complete this thesis work successfully. But before thanking God, let me take this opportunity to touch the feet of my Guru and thank him for showing me the path. My heartfelt gratitude to my mentor and guide, Prof. T. Bagchi, Head department of Microbiology and Co-ordinator Biotechnology, for giving me the honor of being his student. I would never have been able to complete this work without the esteemed guidance, constant encouragement and inspiration given by you. I shall forever be indebted to you for all that you have taught me and being a constant support for every little step that I took. My heart is filled with utmost respect for you and I hope your blessings will remain with me throughout life.

I take this opportunity to thank all the faculty members of this department, I thank Prof. B. B Chatoo, Prof. Shah, Dr. Nair, Dr. Chandani, Dr. Manjrekar, Prof. Anjana Desai, Prof. Gayatri, Dr. Nerukar, Dr. Vyas and Prof. Ingle who have been very kind and supportive at times whenever I approached them.

I shall remain indebted to my friends, Kunjal for not only helping me in collection of blood samples but also for being a caring friend and Maulik for his unconditional support and constant encouragement. I am thankful to Jitendra and Prakash who have stayed with me in testing times. I also thank Prabha, Anupama, Aparna and Nimish and to all my friends from school and graduation. All my friends deserve my heartfelt thanks for their undeterred moral support whenever I was in a crisis.

I am really thankful to all my labmates who have been more than a friend and always been supportive even at the most odd times. A big thank you to Geoby, Marpe, Sandeep, Abhik, Akhilesh, Hemanti, Sejal, Ruchi, Priya and Shubhangi. Because of their companionship in the lab, the pace of time has never been realized. Sincere thanks to Ruchi ma'am for helping me with 2D experiments. I further extend my thanks to Hashim, Jagat and Vihang and other research scholars of microbiology and biotechnology department for their invaluable support and help whenever I approached them.
All the non-teaching staffs, especially Mr. Nair, Mr. Nagarkar and Mr. Bhatt have been very helpful devoid of which many of my work would have taken more time than expected. My sincere thanks to all of them.

My heartfelt thanks to all my teachers starting from my school days to my graduation. I extend my gratefulness to the professors of Medical college Baroda, for their support. Dean, Dr. A. T. Leuva., Dr. Chandrakant Shah Ex-HOD Department of chest and members of Department of Chest and TB, of SSG hospital, Baroda, for their cooperation in getting samples from patients. I express my utmost gratitude to Dr. Srilakshmi P. Hiryur, Associate Professor, Department of Pathology for her knowledge and encouragement. Thankyou, ma’am. Without the voluntary support of Dr. Shailesh Patel Dr. Shrikant and other residents of SSG hospital my work would have been just a fiction. I further extend my sincere thanks to all of them. I would like to thank all the patients, their family members, other participants of this study for the blood samples on which my work is based. Thanks are also due to Dr. Hiten Patel, Dr. Jhala, Mr. Deepak Chunara and Mr. Kalpesh Modia for helping me in collecting the blood samples at the DOTS center.

Also, I cannot forget the help from my M.Sc dissertation students Mohita, Hetal, Daxa, Vibha, Ruby, Sandhya, Aditya, Yashwant, Madhulika in collecting samples from various locations.

I am thankful to Dr. Kris Huysgen (O.D. Communicable and Infectious Diseases, Scientific Institute of Public Health, Belgium) and Derin Keskın (Harvard University, USA) for their kind favor in appreciating this study by providing PPD and B-LCL cell line respectively.

I further extend my thanks also to the staffs in the Faculty of Science for their timely help and support.

Once again I take this opportunity to thank the DBT and UGC, New Delhi, India, for the financial support I was provided. The fellowship has been a boon for me in pursuing this course.

I would also like to take this opportunity to thank Dr. Sharmila Bagchi and Master Ashutosh Bagchi for the warmth and love they have showered on me. Thankyou ma’am and Ashu for lending me your invaluable support.
I would like to thank all the people whom I may not remember while writing this acknowledgement but who have helped me in the course of my work.

Finally and above all, I thank my parents for their unconditional love, care and encouragement. Ma and Papa, thank you for being by my side through the thick and thin at every stage of my life. I would also thank my brother Rajul and Bhabhi Kalpana for their love and support. It was my little nephew Girdhar and niece Barkha who with their innocence made me smile no matter how grave the situation was. Thank you for making my life more beautiful. The encouragement, blessings and love from Mamaji, Mamiji, Ruchir bhaiya, Swati bhabhi and dear Shashwat have helped me through the hard times. I am very much thankful to my beloved parents and all my adored ones for whom I have pursued this course. I am short of words to appreciate their immense patience they showed by waiting for me to successfully complete this course and providing moral support at all point of time.
