ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I undertook the research work for my Ph.D. Degree in the Department of Studies in Philosophy, Manasagangotri, University of Mysore, Mysore, during the academic years 2011-2014. This thesis, of course, could not have been completed without the co-operation and support from many individuals and institutions. This acknowledgement is made here to express my appreciation and gratitude to them.

First, I am grateful to declare the deepest sense of gratitude and appreciativeness to the country of India, the country of rich culture traditions and heritage, and University of Mysore, one of India's premier institutions of higher learning, for providing me this opportunity to do the research for my doctoral degree.

I would like to make a full acknowledgement of my deepest gratitude and special thanks to my good-hearted supervisor, Dr. H. L. Chandrashekara, Chairman and Associate Professor, Department of Studies in Philosophy, Manasagangotri, University of Mysore, Mysore, whose kind heart and helping nature made my study very successful. His meticulous planning, intelligent guidance and invaluable suggestions at all stages of the preparation of the thesis helped me to finish the whole work systematically. With a profound sense of respect, I offer my sincere thanks to him.

I would like to express my deepest and sincere gratitude to my beloved mother, Ms. Supee Srisuwan, my sister, Ms. Urai Lao-aruen, and my spouse, Ms. Kathleeya Rattanawong for all support and encouragement. Their understanding and moral support have provided me a great strength to carry on this research study. Their advice and encouragement have left an indelible impression on my mind. Without them my study would not have been possible at all.

I would like to express my sincere thanks to Professor Dr. M. Ramachandra, Associate Professor Dr. S. Venkatesh, Assistant Professor Dr. M. Vijayalakshmi, Assistant Professor Dr. M. Daniel, lecturers in the Department of Studies in Philosophy, Manasagangotri, University of Mysore, Mysore, for their valuable advice and suggestions for the improvement of my thesis.

I would like to express my sincere and special thanks to Dr. K.N. Basavaraju, Ms. U. Rajani Rao, Mr. T.S. Divakara, Mr. Dinesh Rao, Mr. N. Chinnaswamy, Mr. B.R. Nagaraju and Mr. P. Arulappa, and other research scholars in the Department of Studies in Philosophy, Manasagangotri, University of Mysore, Mysore. They have given, with their critical acumen, valuable suggestions regarding the preparation of my doctoral thesis.

I would like to place on record my thanks to Dr. K. Naganna, Dr. N. Mallikarjuna, Dr. H. M. Mallikarjunaswamy, Dr. H. E. Harisha and Dr. Niranjan from the Department of Studies in Philosophy, Manasagangotri, University of Mysore, Mysore, who were kind enough to advise me during the preparation of this thesis.

I also express my gratitude to all staff-members namely, Smt. Asha Kumari B.R. and Sri Kala of the Department of Studies in Philosophy, Manasagangotri, University of Mysore, Mysore, for their timely help and useful suggestions.

In Thailand, I would like to place on record my indebtedness to my beloved and respected first Indian Philosophy teacher, Assistant Professor Dr. Viroj Inthanon, lecturer in the Department of Philosophy, Faculty of Humanities, Chiang mai University, Chiang mai, Thailand, who ignited my interest to further my study in India. His advices and encouragement have impressed my mind deeply.

My special thanks go to all my respected seniors and good friends in the Thai Students Association in Mysore, India, which I cannot state all their names here, still I would like to place on record my sincere thanks to some of them, namely, Dr. Prasit Chala, Dr. Phramaha Narin Sudhamma, Dr. Somkid Yakean, Dr. Phra Wisit Wongsai, Ashin Wai Ponla, Phra Taweepong Inwongsakul, Phra Amnat Phutthaart, Assistant Professor Niwate Arunberkfah, Mr. Somposh Wowong, Mr. Pradit Kammungkun, Ms. Wanlaya Namtam, Ms. Monthip Sittipiphat and Mr. Tanakorn Prempunya for their help and support in many ways. I am extremely grateful to all of them.

I will be failing in my duty if I do not express my gratitude to Associate Professor Dr. Wanchai Sirichana, the President of Mae Fah Luang University, Chiang rai, Thailand, for granting me the educational leave to complete my study in India.

Finally, I do believe that if my beloved father, Mr. Vinai Lao-aruen, and my grandfather, LAC. Sa-nga Srisuwan, were still alive and seeing my academic accomplishment, they would have been very pleased and delighted.
