Acknowledgement

On the accomplishment of the present study it is with deep sense of reverence and gratitude, I deem it a proud privilege and feel immense pleasure to acknowledge all those who have helped me during the pursuit of my present study.

With profound respects, I take it as my pleasure and privilege to express my deep sense of gratitude, indebtedness and appreciation to my Supervisor, Dr. A. R. Khan, Professor, P. G. Department of Zoology, University of Kashmir for his learned counsel, invaluable judicious, constructive and illuminating suggestions, continuous inspiration, invariant encouragement with legitimate criticism and generous contribution of his knowledge. It is his esteemed guidance, active persuasion, his caring attitude and determination for timely successful completion of present work, the commendable efforts put in throughout the period of my study which really enabled me to complete the project. I am sincerely obliged and thankful to him for believing in me and planning and executing the present research work for me. I also apologize for all the inconvenience that might have been caused during the tenure of my study on my part and admire a valuable opportunity for me to pursue my Ph. D study under a perfect and patient person like him.

I wish to put on records my sincere thanks and esteemed gratitude to Dr. R.C. Bhagat, Prof. and Head, P.G. Department of Zoology, University of Kashmir for his conducive advices, constructive suggestions, encouragement and providing infrastructural facilities for successful completion of the research work.

I extend my sincere thanks, indebtedness and take it as an opportunity to pay all my respects to Dr. M.Z. Chishti, Prof. and Chairman Special Assistance Programme (SAP) for his supporting attitude, keen interest and making all the research facilities available at the SAP laboratory during the entire study.

It is my pleasure to offer my veneration and indebtedness to Dr. Masood Saleem Mir, Assistant Professor, Department of Pathology, Sheri Kashmir University of Agricultural Sciences and Technology, Shuhama, whose painstaking efforts, valuable expert suggestions, perspicuous critical appraisal of the manuscript and timely help has really enabled me to achieve my goal.

I am genuinely beholden to late Prof. Abdul Baqui, Professor, P.G. Department of Zoology, University of Kashmir and extend my sincere thanks for his immense encouragement, constant motivation, kind cooperation, constructive and timely suggestions, unreserved help that really needs to be acknowledged. I extend all my regards to his kind and valuable suggestions during my practical work and pray to Almighty to bless his soul with peace and place in heaven.

I wish to place on record persons who never showed prosaic attitude in helping me at the best of their skills. Among a few worth mentioning are Dr. Basharat Pandith, Dr. Zaffar, Dr. G. Mustafa Shah, Dr. M. Nayar Azim, Dr. Ulfat Jan, Dr. Raja Fayaz Ali, Dr. Syed Tanveer, Dr. Majda Rashid, Dr. Younis, Dr. Shahnaz, Dr. Sheikh Parvez, Ab Majeed, Dr. Riyaz Qadafi, Dr. Sheikh Zahoor, Dr. Sheikh Fayaz, Er. Sheema, Dr. Feroz, Dr. Imtiyaz and Dr. Tariq. I can not find words in my vocabulary to pen down a note of thanks for their valuable suggestions, unreserved help, kind co-operation, their affection and care during the tenure of my study.

I respectfully acknowledge and express my profound affection and thanks for every staff person of the P. G. Department of Zoology, University of Kashmir and the staff persons especially Mohammad Shafi Wadoo, Mohammad Shafi Shahi and Ali Mohammad of Division of Pathology, SKUAST, Shuhama for all the encouragement and help.

I extend my sincere thanks to all my colleagues who stood by me during this period. My cordial thanks to Fayaz, Zahoor, Javid, Imtiyaz, Deen, Yousef, Parvez, Tariq, Showket, Zubair, Shabir, Sajad and Bilal for their untiring help and kind cooperation during the entire research work. I equally reciprocate my feelings for Asiya, Rukhsana, Rghana and Nusrat.

At this inexplicable moment of joy, I deem it a privilege to recall all the cooperation and the contribution of my juniors. The worth mentioning among them are Bashir, Aisha, Shaheen, Lateef, Feroz, Khursheed and Shabnum.
Friends are forever no matter they are far or away and we owe them something for shaping us. At this moment I remember my friends Tanveer, Ronika, Iqbal, Ajaz, Amin, Sadiq, Asif and Late Syed Shabir for all they have done for me.

From the core of my heart I deeply express my thanks and affection to Mushtaq, Farooq and Nisar for their unreserved painstaking moral support and encouragement during the hard times of my research work.

I reserve this line for an unforgettable care, affection and rock solid support shown by Prof. A.R. Khan and his family during the depressive phases of my research.

My vocabulary utterly fails in expressing my accolade to my revered parents for their immense help, moral boosting, invariant encouragement and lesson for hard work. I lack to say words of reverence, gratification and affection for my venerated parents who brought me to this stage and because of whom I was able to pursue my higher study. At the same time it is my privilege to accord my sincere respects, thanks and love for all my relatives who stood by me in my hard times.

At this special occasion I recall all of my teachers right from my schooling especially Late Ab. Rashid Mir who have always been there at different stages of my life to mould me towards the perfection.

Finally I would like to thank Mr. Parvaiz Ahmad and Waseem Jaffar (VIRUS DIGITAL INTERNET CAFE) for their healthy editing of the manuscript and giving it the final shape.

I apologize for faux pas of the persons who have extended the help in a way or other and deserve such thanks.

Last but not least I thank Almighty for giving me patience and strength to overcome all the difficulties and remain stoic throughout my study.

(Sheikh Tanveer Salam)