ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The completion of this work is almost a teamwork as it was virtually impossible without the help of all the persons who extended a helping hand from time to time. It is difficult to mention the names of all of them. Therefore I express my thankfulness to all those whose names may not be included here.

I express my deep feeling of gratitude and indebtedness towards my guide and teacher Dr. Tharsis Joseph M.Com, M.Phil, Ph.D., Head of the Post Graduate Department of Commerce and Research Centre, St. Thomas College, Pala, not only for his guidance and teaching, but also for his tolerance and patience maintained towards me for the last 4 years. He has always encouraged me and consoled me in times of grief. He has been a constant front of inspiration. Without his moral support and faith in me, I would never have completed this work.

I am equally indebted to Rev. Dr. Mathew Maleparambil, the Principal, St. Thomas College, Pala, for the consent and encouragement to do this research work.

I must express my deep gratitude towards Dr. Jayan, M.Com., M.Phil., Ph.D., Dept. of Commerce, N.S.S. Hindu College, Changanacherry and Dr. G.S. Gireeshkumar, M.Com., M.Phil., Ph.D., Dept. of Commerce Pavanatma College, Murikassery, for their valuable suggestions and teaching. Everytime I approached them for any kind of help, they extended it gladly. My most sincere thanks to them for their untiring efforts in locating references and directions to do this research work.
I am extremely thankful to Dr. T.M. Jacob, M.Sc., Ph.D., Johny Scaria M.Sc., M.Phil., Dept. of Statistics, Nirmala College, Muvattupuzha and Mr. Ginto Jacob M.Sc for their valuable guidance and help in selecting and designing statistical tools for analysis of primary data.

I record my sincere thanks to the managements and employees of the 36 selected SLPEs in Kerala for their valuable co-operation and help in providing the required information during the course of this research work.

I also thank the Library and office staff of St. Thomas College, Pala for the valuable help they extended from time to time.

I acknowledge my thanks to Mr. Nirmal Mathew and Miss. Manju, Idea Computers, Thodupuzha, for making their computer system available for typing and printing of thesis.

And last but not least, my gratitude towards my parents for their support, care and encouragement.
