It takes a long time to write a Ph.D. thesis, though not as long as it takes to lay some rail track, surprisingly. I would here like to express my thanks to the people who have been very helpful to me during the time it took me to write this thesis. I have been very fortunate with my supervisor, Dr S R Padre was good supervisor, who complemented each other wonderfully well, and was more than anything fantastically normal and human. I have gained a lot through his exceptional foresight, immeasurable contribution, and sincere advice creative ideas and continuous support. I am truly grateful to him.

I am also indebted to Dr Syed Azharuddin for his incessant encouragement and constructive suggestions through the course of this research and provided invaluable feedback to my thesis. I would like to thank Dr. Shivaji Madan, M C Member, Dr K B Laghane, Dean Faculty of Commerce, Prof M A Lokhande, Prof W K Sarwade, Dean & Director, Management Science and Head Dept. of Commerce & other faculty members & non-teaching staff.

I am also thankful to my principal Dr R S Agrawal who pursued me to complete my research work, I cannot forget the support and inspiration given by my colleagues in the department of Commerce, J E S College, Jalna, Dr J D Kabra, Dr Mahavir Sadawarte, Dr Sunil Bhavsar, Dr Anand kulkarni, Dr Suryakant Chougule and other teachers of my college.

Finally I would like to thank my family who stood by me during the course of my research work.

S M Mante
Research Scholar
Dr. Babasaheb Ambedkar Marathwada University, Aurangabad (MS), India