AGG QUESTIONNAIRE

Constructed & Standardized by
Dr. G.C. Pati,
MENTAL HEALTH INSTITUTE
SCB Medical College,
CUTTACK [Orissa]

Name……………………………Age………Year…………….Month…………
Class……………………..………Religion……………………..……..……
Married/Unmarried…………………………………………………Occupation of Guardian…………………………………………………………………….Monthly
Income…………………………………………School/College…………
………………………………………………………………………………….Date………………………….

DIRECTIONS

There are certain situations described in this questionnaire. Read each situation carefully and think what would have been your response had you been present at the time of occurrence of that incidence.

Below each question there are possible answers also and you have to select the best appropriate response as it occurs to you for that particular occasion. You will indicate your response by marking a tick (✓) on the appropriate box of the answers.

PUBLISHED BY
RUPA PSYCHOLOGICAL CENTRE
B. 19/60 B, Deoriabir, Bhelupura.
VARANASI – 221001
Copyright : 1976 by Rupa Psychological Centre.
All Rights Reserved.
The reproduction of this questionnaire, by means of duplicating machine or otherwise, whether the reproductions are to be sold or not, is a violation of the copyright law.

1. Rama once stole fifty paise from his father. When it was known at home:
   - (1) Mother did not care it, telling that it was a childish prank;
   - (2) His elder brother beat him;
   - (3) Father drove him out of home.
   Whose treatment of the situation, you feel, can be judged as good?

2. A boy was very mischievous. He would beat other boys of the locality always. They were angry, and held a meeting to punish him. Various suggestions were offered:
   - (1) Some told to threaten him;
   - (2) Some suggested to beat him to their satisfaction;
   - (3) Some others declared to kill him.
   Whose suggestion is better?

3. A cyclist by chance dashed against a boy on the road. When the boy shrieked and complained, a number of people nearby gathered there. As it happens in such circumstances:
   - (1) Some told that what has happened has happened, do not abuse the gentleman, leave him;
   - (2) Some insisted on beating him;
   - (3) Others suggested to hand over the cyclist to the Police.
   Who, in your opinion, gave better suggestion?

4. A fast running car occasioned the patches of water deposits on the road to fall upon the passerby. Naturally there were irritated:
   - (1) Some muttered abuses at the driver;
   - (2) Some shouted threats at the driver and occupants;
   - (3) Some threw stones that resulted in damaging the glass plates of the car.
   Who, you feel, did well?
5. A boy was caught redhanded when he was picking a pocket. A crowd gathered there:

- (1) Some men scolded the boy and suggested to leave him;
- (2) Some men suggested to beat the boy and then only leave him;
- (3) Some others suggested to hand over the boy to the police.

Which suggestion, in your opinion is good?

6. A boy named Shyam did not pay any attention to his elders’ advice, and roamed about in forbidden places. All of his relatives were vexed:

- (1) Mother just did not tell anything, pardoned him for his insolence;
- (2) Uncle gave him two hard slaps;
- (3) Father beat him with a stick.

Whose action, in your opinion, is good?

7. For some reason police stopped the march of a procession:

- (1) Some left the procession and went away;
- (2) Some threw stones at the police;
- (3) Some others clashed with police with knife and lathi.

Who did well?

8. A man's land was forcibly occupied by his rich neighbours. He sought advice as to what to do from his villagers.

- (1) Some advised to file a case;
- (2) Some advised him to beat the rich man;
- (3) Some others advised him to kill the man, and do away with it.

Who gave good advice?

9. A group of men were travelling without ticket in one compartment of the train. The T.T.I. came in to check.

- (1) Some of the group told to pay him the due charges;
- (2) Some told to bribe the T.T.I.;
- (3) Some others told to push the T.T.I. out of the train.

Who told right?
10. Once three beggars together entered a compound to beg. They were denied alms:
   □ (1) One of them whispered an abuse and left;
   □ (2) Another went away scolding loudly.
   □ (3) The last one picked up a stray utensil from the verandah and ran away with it.
   Who did right?

11. It was found that some magistrates were not working properly. Higher authority sat to decide measure to punish them:
   □ (1) Some advised to fine them.
   □ (2) Some told to discharge them from service;
   □ (3) Some others opined to imprison them.
   Whose opinion is preferable?

12. While a loose woman was passing on the street:
   □ (1) Some men gave her obscene signs;
   □ (2) Some men talked of her in obscene language;
   □ (3) Some others passed her so closely as to collide with her.
   Which one of these activities is good?

13. A number of big officers—Magistrates, Police, Legal authorities were found to be taking bribes. To punish them:
   □ (1) Some told to dismiss them from service;
   □ (2) Some spoke of imprisoning them;
   □ (3) Some preferred to hang them.
   Which one would be appropriate punishment?

14. A group of men broke and entered into a house. A police man by chance came to the spot:
   □ (1) Some of the men told to submit themselves to the police;
   □ (2) Some told of bribing the police and get away;
   □ (3) Some others thought of attacking the police, as he was alone and get out of the scene.
   Which one would be good?
15. A man persistently gave false witness against his villagers (in law courts). Villagers met to do something with him:
   □ (1) Some observed to oust him out of the village;
   □ (2) Some spoke of giving him a hard beating;
   □ (3) Some opined to kill him.
   Whose opinion is good one?

16. A man did not get anything to eat for few days. He entered into a hotel, attempted to eat something forcibly. He was caught and brought before the Magistrate. After taking account of the case the Magistrate thought among the ways of action:
   □ (1) Either to acquit him or;
   □ (2) To punish him with a nominal fine or;
   □ (3) To sentence him for few days.
   Which one would be good?