CHAPTER 04

HYPOTHESES
HYPOTHESES

- Emergency Medical Services is an essential part of the overall healthcare system.

- Emergency Medical Services vary drastically from developed to developing countries.

- It is desirable to have universal and dedicated three digit emergency telephone number to contact in case of an emergency.

- Presence of qualified (medical/Paramedical) staff for providing care in case of emergencies is an essential requirement for effective EMS.

- It is desirable to have both Basic Life Support and Advanced Life Support type of ambulances for transportation in case of an emergency, depending upon severity of illness for effective delivery of EMS.

- It is desirable to fund Emergency Medical Services through Public Private Partnership.