Acknowledgements

All great or little achievements speak of silent and yet predominant forces at their back and no one can claim fulfillment of one’s aim in isolation. I take this opportunity to reserve my indebtedness, for all the help received in accomplishment of this work to all such forces natural and supernatural.

Indeed the words at my command are inadequate in form and spirit to express my feelings of extreme regard and sincere gratitude to my esteemed teacher and elite guide Dr. Sucheta Pathania, for her dexterous supervision, constructive criticism, invaluable suggestions, constant inspiration and untiring guidance coupled with encouragement which has consequently lead to the present work to its entire successful accomplishment.

I extend my sincerest and heartiest gratitude to Prof. Posh Charak, Head Department of English, Prof. Deepsheekha Kotwal, Dr. R. P. Sharma, Dr. Satnam Kour and Dr. Monika Sethi for their valuable guidance, support and cooperation during my tenure as student and scholar in the Department of English, University of Jammu.

I also acknowledge with heartfelt gratitude all the non-teaching staff members of the department especially Mrs Anuradha Sharma, Assistant Librarian for her constant help throughout the period of study.
My debt of gratitude is also due to James West, Professor of English at Penn State University, and biographer of William Styron, who provided me with invaluable suggestions, air mailed me wonderful books of William Styron and answered my e-mails promptly and graciously all the way from the United States of America.

The library staff of The American Library, New Delhi and Osmania University Centre for International Programme, Hyderabad deserves my special thanks for permitting me to consult the library records and for the active cooperation in search of relevant study material from books, journals and published research works.

I am grateful to all authors and publishers from whom I had the audacity of quoting references.

Words fail short to acknowledge my friends and well wishers especially Rajesh, Gopal and Ashok for their moral support, cooperation and extending ever helping hand during this compilation.

Words can hardly express the profound sense of gratitude, I owe to my beloved parents Sh. Mohan Lal Sharma and Smt. Sham Pyari for their blessings, care, love, patience, cooperation and moral support. I would also like to thank my father-in-law Sh. Amar Nath Raina, my mother-in-law Smt Satya Devi and my brother-in-law Mr. Deepak Raina for their constant inspiration, encouragement, support and concern.

This thesis would have not seen the light of the day without the encouragement, motivation, patience, love and able help of my better half Dr. Mosmi Raina who remained and kept me optimistic throughout in the process of present research. I also thank my loving son Devasya for bringing me cheer in life and sparing me in early days of his life for completing this project.

Infact, it came true by the grace of Almighty in whose competence lies everything, I bow before Him for His blessings.

Rakesh Kumar