ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

At the outset, I whole heartedly express my deep sense of gratitude to my supervisor and guide Dr (Smt) V. V. PUROHIT, Associate professor in Economics, Indira Bhai Patak Mahila College, Aurangabad, who is a constant source of inspiration in design and execution of this research effort towards its successful Completion. But for her guidance and help, this thesis work could not have been completed. I owe a lot to her.

I take this opportunity to express my sincere thanks to Prof. S. T. Sangle, Head, Department of Economics, Dr. BABASAHEB AMBEDKAR MARATHWADA UNIVERSITY, Aurangabad, for his kind encouragement, affectionate inquiry with regard to the status of my work, invaluable guidance and suggestions which have enriched this research work.

I am deeply indebted to Prof. Arjune D. S, Chairman, board of studies, Department of Economics, Dr. BABASAHEB AMBEDKAR MARATHWADA UNIVERSITY, Aurangabad, for his kind and constant encouragement at various stages of my work. I owe a lot to him.

I take this opportunity to thank profusely for their invaluable suggestions in enriching the content and presentation of my Ph D thesis especially Professor V. B. Bishe, Professor, Dr. V. B. Khandare, Dean, Faculty of Social Sciences, Dr. BABASAHEB AMBEDKAR MARATHWADA UNIVERSITY, Aurangabad, Maharastra.

I would be failing in my duty if I don’t place on record my gratitude to my parents Sri P. Linga Reddy and Smt P. Laxmi who have introduced me to this world. They are responsible for the growth of this child in to an academic being. This research effort is the form of their blessings.
I thank my wife Smt. Krishnaveni, my Sons Abhinay Reddy, and Praneeth Reddy and Other family members, who are instrumental for my studies and progress and for giving me enough support, space and time to complete this research work.

I am deeply indebted to Dr. B. Sudhakar Reddy, Associate professor in Economics, Osmania University, Hyderabad. He is my guide and philosopher in my real life and supported me in various stages of my life and played an instrumental role in my career growth. The very idea of this Ph D work is sown in me by him. His initiatives, direction, advice and academic inputs which have gone in to making of this research effort made it richly rich. I profusely thank him. To my luck he is my first cousin.

In this context, I also take this opportunity to thank the respondents of my survey. But for their help, this research work could not have taken this shape.

Last but not the least; I would like to thank B.Vanitha for inputting her expertise, patience and time in ensuring a shape to this research document. However, I am solely responsible for the mistakes, if any, in this research effort.

(P. Anantha Reddy)
