ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I express my sincere gratitude for my research supervisor Dr. Manoj C. Zade, Head of the Dept. of English, A. S. C. College, Naldurg, Dist. Osmanabad, for guiding me with his luminous and erudite insight. Noticing my great interest in Dalit Literature, he encouraged me and strengthened my confidence to undertake this research work. This wouldn’t have been accomplished without his kind co-operation. I will always to oblige to him for his concern for my academic progress.

I would like to express my special thanks to Hon.ble Shri. Chandrakant Handore (Former Social Justice Minister, Govt. of Maharashtra, Mumbai) for his kind and warm blessings for my life and career.

I am indebted to Dr. F. A. Siddiqui who guided for my M. Phil. Dissertation. It is because of him that I could develop an interest in undertaking this Ph. D. research work. Mere words may fail to convey the feelings and emotions that I bear in mind with profound gratefulness for Dr. Mustajeeb Khan, Dr. Anand Ubale for being constant source of motivation in academic career. I am grateful to Dr. Sangewar, Dr. Shaikh Samad and Dr. K. T. Mahajan for sharing with me their literary and social sensibilities during this research.

I would like to thank Dr. K. G. Ranveer, Head of the Department of English, Dr. Babasaheb Ambedkar Marathwada University, Aurangabad and faculty namely, Dr. Satish Deshapande, Dr. Mrs. Mebel Fernandes, Dr. Hamid Khan, Prof. Bhimrao Bhosale, Dr. Mehrunnisa Pathan, Dr. Uttam Ambhore, and Dr. Geeta Patil for their kind support and constant guidance during my research work.
I take this opportunity to record my thanks to all my well-wishers Dr. Sambhaji Waghmare, Dr. Shankar Ambhore, Dr. U. L. Jagtap, Dr. Sunil Narwadw, Shri. Santosh Bhingare, Shri. J. S. Kamble, Shri Ravi Kamble, Shri. Vijay Jondhale.

I am immensely grateful to my family members, father Shri. Sadashiv Kachruba Raibole, my mother Shakuntala Sadashiv Raibole for their sacrifice, patience and always standing behind me, without whose love and caring I would have never reached to this stage of highest educational qualification in my life. I must recognize the loving and caring approach of my wife Mrs. Wrunda Raibole because of whom I could maintain the consistency in the completion of research work. I must acknowledge the support of my younger brother Ajay, Vijay and sister Komal and sister-in-laws Reena and Sukeshana as well as Siddhant, Karuna and my daughter Chiu in my family.

I also thank the Librarian and staff of Milind College of Science and Dr. B. A. M. University, Aurangabad for making necessary books, references and manuscripts available during this research work.

Lastly I must thank everyone who directly and indirectly involved and helped me in completing this research work.

Mr. Raibole Dhananjay Sadashiv
(Research Student)