ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The author expresses his deep sense of gratitude to Dr. Mldar Ahmad, Reader, Post-graduate Department of Zoology, the University of Kashmir for suggesting the research problem, valuable guidance, advice and constructive criticism during the courses of present investigations.

The author is also highly grateful to Professor D.N. Fotedar, formerly Head, Post-graduate Department of Zoology, the University of Kashmir for the facilities provided to carry out present investigations in the Department. Thanks are also due to Professor M.K. Raina, present Head of the Department.

Thanks are due to the Librarian, Iqbal Library, University of Kashmir, the Head Library Services, I.A.R.I., New Delhi, for providing the library facilities.

Thanks are due to Dr. N.C. Pant, Director, Commonwealth Institute of Entomology, London, England for help in the identification of some insect species.

The author is thankful to authorities of University and Department of Environment, New Delhi, for providing financial assistance in the form of Research Fellowship.
The author is indebted to teachers, colleagues and friends and expresses his sincerest thanks to them for their help in preparing this thesis.

Last but not the least the author records his thanks to Mr. M.S. Dar, for typing the manuscript.