CHAPTER – IX

FURTHER SCOPE FOR THE RESEARCH

This research will play an important role as a base for further researches in the field of Industrial wastes as a byproduct for vary other industries.

As reviewed by the researcher in his ‘Review of Literature ‘chapter, there is ample scope to study the process wastes of many manufacturing industries as a potential products for marketing.

In controlling environmental pollutions utilizing the industrial wastes as useful resources for further useful products can be one excellent idea. Research in this field is now to be focused and encouraged.

Secondly, this research will also encourage the researchers to make researches on sale of every product and various waste products to enhance financial support to co-operative spinning mill sector and avoid losses to large extent.

Researchers can also make research on utilization of cotton process wastes through laboratory processes, industrial processes to produce industrial products.

----------------+----------------