ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The author expresses her deep sense of gratitude and indebtedness to Dr. A.B. Mandal, Ph.D., F.A.Sc., Senior Assistant Director, Central Leather Research Institute (CLRI), Madras for the valuable guidance and scientific training throughout the course of the work.

The author is highly grateful and indebted to Dr. T. Ramasami, Ph.D., F.A.Sc., Acting Director, CLRI, for the inspiring guidance and stimulating suggestions.

The author expresses her thanks to:

Dr. N. Chandrakumar, Mr. S. Sendhilvelan and Mr. F. Chandrasekhar for the help in Nuclear Magnetic Resonance analysis,

Dr. (Mrs) Aruna Dhathathreyan and Mr. S. John Collins for the great support in the execution of Langmuir Film Balance experiments and

Prof. N. Vedaraman and Mr. C. Leela Prasad of Indian Institute of Technology, Madras for the help in particle size analysis.

The author is thankful to Dr. R. Jayakumar, Dr. N. Somanathan, Dr. Balachandra Unni Nair, Dr. (Mrs) M. Kanthimathi, Dr. J. Raghava Rao, Mr. R. Ganesh Jeevan, Mr. N. Suryanarayana, Dr. V. Subramanian, Dr. (Mrs) Rama Rajaram and C. Vijayakumar for the timely support.
The author wishes to thank her Senior Colleagues, Dr. V.V.M. Rao, Dr. (Mrs) K. Vijayalakshmi and Dr.V.S. Sundara Rao for the constant encouragement.

The author thanks Dr. K.V.Raghavan, Director, CLRI, for the permission to utilise the facilities of the Institute.

The author acknowledges her family members for the great co-operation.

K. GEETHA