ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Research in the era of science and technology, is a joint effort of many people particularly in the nature of present research work. I owe this exceptional moment of happiness with the deep sense of gratitude to my supervisor Prof. L.R. Yagnik, Head, Department of Psychology, S.P. University, Vallabh Vidhya Nagar, Anand, who gave me unprecedented support and continuous motivational encouragement. Without his parental affection and attitude, this research work could not be completed.

I would like to give my sincere thanks to the other staff members of the Department of Psychology, S.P. University, Vallabh Vidhya Nagar, Anand for their encouragement in the completion of the research work.

I sincerely express my gratitude to my beloved parents Sh. K.R. Choudhary and Smt. Rukma Choudhary. The basic and internal motivational force for completion of this research work are my beloved wife Smt. Sushila Choudhary and my sweet son Master Dushyant Singh.

Last, but not the least, I am very much thankful to those street children and their parents, who explained a hand of cooperation whenever it was needed as well as giving their valuable time for the present research work.
I also take this opportunity to thank my friends Dileep Sharma, who helped me in data collection and analysis of data. At the same time, I will not forget the services rendered by Ravi Sharma, who typed the manuscript of the present research work.
