ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It is the Compassion and Kindness of many people which is remembered and thanked at this Moment. The first and foremost, the substantial academic debt that I have incurred during the preparation of this thesis on the title “Inception, Intricacies and Implications of ---The New Competition Regime in India” goes to “Shri Gurudeva Dhakshinamurthy”, who guided me thought-out my Research period. He being my strength and support, and helped to overcome all the hurdles that I faced during the Research period. It is worth mentioning here that his presence in my life brought me where I am today. I owe everything to the lord and take this opportunity to render my hearty gratitude, which as usual falls short of.

I profusely thank my Research Guide, Dr. M.D .Krishna, without whose help this wouldn’t have materialized. Sir has guided me in the right and motivated direction and always tapped my potential to the optimum.

I thank the chairman of the Department of Law, Prof: Ishwara Bhat for his support and encouragement for my Ph.D work. I also thank Prof: Basavaraju, Professor of Law for his valuable suggestions and help with reference to my Ph.D work.

I thank my husband Dr. Sreenivasulu .N.S, for his support and guidance. Who being the driving force for me to do PhD. I thank the Vice-chancellor of National University of Juridical Sciences, (NUJS) Kolkata Prof: Mahendra Pal Singh for allowing me to use the resources and the library of the University by considering me as the regular Ph.D student of the University. I take this opportunity to thank the Library and other staff of the University for assisting me in conducting my research work at the University

I also thank the Library staff of the National Law School of India University, Bangalore for their support and assistance in conducting my research work.
I also thank the Department of Law, University of Mysore, Department of Economics, University of Mysore, the Library staff of the University of Mysore for their support and assistance in conducting my research work

I also thank the office staff of the Department of Law, University of Mysore for their support. I thank all those who have directly and indirectly helped me and assisted in my research work.

Lastly, I again thank the Lord above for bestowing patience on me to overcome all the hurdles and hope he will continue to do the same.
