ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Success is the progressive realization of a worthy goal. To achieve success the blessings of the Almighty and the elders are essential. I take this opportunity to acknowledge and extend my sincere gratitude to all the persons for helping me in one way or the other to make the present work a possibility. Its preparation took longer than I anticipated. The preparations begin in 2011 when I lived at University campus, Kurukshetra. The work, unfortunately, was halted for some time as my husband met with a near fatal accident. Then I also had the luck to become a teacher of law at the Faculty of Law of the University of Rajasthan, Jaipur. This was an opportunity which I simply could not let go by due to the scarcity of permanent university positions. My doctoral thesis is here finally completed.

I feel greatly exulted to express a deep sense of gratitude to my supervisor Dr. C. R. Jilova, Assistant Professor, Department of Law, Kurukshetra University, Kurukshetra, for all his patience, for his untiring and inspiring supervision, critical assessment and valuable suggestions, despite his busy academic and administrative involvement. His guidance and co-operation has enabled me to bring this work in the present form. I am grateful to him for permitting me to write a thesis on the topic of my choice.

My deep sense of gratitude is extended towards Prof. Raj Pal Sharma, Dean and Chairman, Department of Law, Kurukshetra University, Kurukshetra for providing adequate facilities for the completion of the work. I am also thankful to Prof. Varsha Razdan, Prof. V. K. Razdan, Prof.
Dalip Kumar, Dr. Sunil Yadav and all other Faculty members of the Department of Law, Kurukshetra University, Kurukshetra for their generous help during my work. I express my appreciation to all of them.

I would also like to convey my thanks the university authorities, to the library staff and non-teaching staff of Department of Law, Kurukshetra University, Kurukshetra for helping me in availing all the material required for the completion of my thesis and to Sh. Sandeep Aneja for help in typing the manuscript.

Last but not least, this work would not have been completed without the support and understanding of my family. They have always supported me every-way I have chosen in life. I express my thanks to my father Prof. A. S. Yadav, Department of Zoology, Kurukshetra University, Kurukshetra, who introduced me to the fascinating field of biodiversity, my mother Mrs. Sushila, my brother Dr. Nishant Yadav and my husband Sh. Manuvir Yadav for educating and preparing me for my better future. My parents are my greatest strength and I am blessed to be their daughter. Their love and support encouraged me to work hard and to complete the present work.

I am also indebted to all those writers, commentators and jurists whose work I have consulted and utilized in the present work.

Dated : ……….. Ankita Yadav