Acknowledgements

I want to express my deep and sincere sense of gratitude to all those who have helped me in this research study. Without the help and care and sympathy of all these people I should not have been able to complete this study.

First of all, I should like to thank my supervisor Dr. Rajendrasinh Jadeja. It is a fortunate coincidence for me that I have been his student at three different times. Before I met him I did love English Language but he developed my taste for English Language Teaching. I shall be grateful to him forever and my gratitude would accumulate like compound interest.

I am grateful to my parents for their love and affection towards me. I must put this on record that my father has paid my term fees (except for two terms!) after I got myself registered for Ph.D. He has been a ‘prodigal’ father, in fact. And, mother prepared the dishes I liked whenever I visited Vallabhbh Vidyanagar for my research related work.

I was helped by a number of people in Ahmedabad and in Anand and Vallabhbh Vidyanagar in the administration of the questionnaire. In this regard I am grateful to: (1) In Ahmedabad- to Dr. Suguna Ramanathan of St. Xavier’s College; to Shri Hasan Saheb of L. D. Arts College; to my friends Dhimant Soni and S. A. Chintaman of H. K. Commerce College; to Ms. Subha Nayar of Sahajanand Commerce College; and to my friend P. C. Chavda of Bhavan’s College of Arts and Commerce. (2) In Anand- to Principal Shri Talati Saheb and Shri B. U. Patel of Anand Arts College. (3) In Vallabh Vidyanagar- to Shri V. M. Patel of Nalini and Arvind Arts College. (4) I am much more grateful to all those Good Learners of English from these colleges who provided data for this study.

For help with the statistical analysis of the data I was advised and assisted by three experts in the field, namely Shri R. K. Patel of my college; Dr. S. K. Likhia of M. B. Patel College of Education, Vallabh Vidyanagar and Shri Rajubhai Chaudhuri of V. P. Science College, Vallabh Vidyanagar.

I am grateful to my principal Shri K. J. Patel for his concern for my research study and I am equally grateful to my colleagues for the very same reason.

I am grateful to Dr. S. Mohanraj and Dr. Jayshree Mohanraj (both of whom had taught me as B.Ed trainee at H. M. Patel Institute of English) for their kind help when I visited the library of the Central Institute of English, Hyderabad.

I am grateful to the Shastri Indo-Canadian Institute, New Delhi for making me available copies of two research articles by Rubin and Stern; and also a copy of the Good Language Learner Research Project by Naiman et al. (Canada).
Finally and affectionately, I thank my wife Alka and daughter Rutvi. How can I ever repay them for what they have done for me and given me? They have cared for me more than they care for themselves or even I care to care for me. It was they who made this work a concrete possibility.
