APPENDIX D-1.

PARENTAL ATTITUDE RESEARCH INVENTORY.

The main purpose of this research is to find out parents' attitude toward child-rearing.

(1) This is neither examination nor intelligent test, right or wrong answers. Every Answer has special characteristics. Read it Carefully before answering and mark '√' in any one of the four columns where your answer is most appropriate.

(2) As per example state below you will understand it soon. Raising children is a nerve wracking job. A good mother will find enough Social life within the family.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Strongly Agree</th>
<th>Mildly Agree</th>
<th>Mildly Disagree</th>
<th>Strongly Disagree</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>A</td>
<td>a</td>
<td>d</td>
<td>D</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

An Answer in favour of first answer strongly agreed (A) '√' do like this and mildly agreed (a) '√' like this in his second answer. Therefore you also start like wise. This information will be kept as confidential.
(1) Children should be allowed to disagree with their parents if they feel their own ideas are better.

(2) A good mother should shelter her child from life's little difficulties.

(3) Some children are just so bad they must be taught to fear adults for their own good.

(4) You must always keep tight hold of baby during his bath for in a careless moment he might slip.

(5) A child will be grateful later on for strict training.

(6) More parents should teach their children to have unquestioning loyalty to them.
Parents should adjust to the children some rather than always expecting the children to adjust to the parents.

If you let children talk about their troubles they end up complaining even more.

Mothers would do their job better with the children if fathers were more kind.

A young child should be protected from hearing about sex.

Children would be happier and better behaved if parents would show an interest in their affairs.

Children should be encouraged to tell their parents about it whenever they feel family rules are unreasonable.
(13) A mother must expect to give up her own happiness for that of her child.

(14) All young mothers are afraid of their awkwardness in handling and holding the baby.

(15) Strict discipline develops a fine strong character.

(16) Mothers very often feel that they can't stand their children a moment longer.

(17) The child should be taught to revere his parents above all other grown-ups.

(18) Parents must earn the respect of their children by the way they act.
(19) It is very important that young boys and girls not be allowed to see each other completely undressed.

(20) Children and husbands do better when the mother is strong enough to settle most of the problems.

(21) A child should never keep a secret from his parents.

(22) The sooner a child learns to walk the better he is trained.

(23) It is not fair that a woman has to bear just about all the burden of raising children by herself.
(24) A child has a right to his own point of view and ought to be allowed to express it.

(25) A child soon learns that there is no greater wisdom than that of his parents.

(26) There is no good excuse for a child hitting another child.

(27) Children are too often asked to do all the compromising and adjustment and that is not fair.

(28) Children who are held to firm rules grow up to be the best adults.

(29) Children who take part in sex play become sex criminals when they grow up.
(30) An alert parent should try to learn all her child's thoughts.

(31) A child's ideas should be seriously considered in making family decisions.

(32) Parents should know better than to allow their children to be exposed to difficult situations.

(33) Too many women forget that a mother's place is in the home.

(34) Children should be more considerate of their mothers since their mothers suffer so much for them.

(35) Most mothers are fearful that they may hurt their babies through handling them.
(36) Raising children is a nerve wracking job.

(37) The child should not question the thinking of his parents.

(38) Parents deserve the highest esteem and regard of their children.

(39) One of the bad things about raising children is that you aren't free enough of the time to do just as you like.

(40) As much as is reasonable a parent should try to treat a child as an equal.

(41) If a child has upset feelings it is best to leave him alone and not make it look serious.

(42) Sex is one of the greatest problems to be contended within children.
(43) The whole family does fine if the mother puts her shoulders to the wheel and takes charge of things.

(44) A mother has a right to know everything going on in her child's life because her child is part of her.

(45) A mother should make an effort to get her child toilet trained at the earliest possible time.

(46) When a child is in trouble he ought to know he won't be punished for talking about it with his parents.

(47) A good mother will find enough social life within the family.

(48) It is sometimes necessary for the parents to break the child's will
(49) Mothers sacrifice almost all their own fun for their children.

(50) Children are actually happier under strict training.

(51) There is nothing worse than letting a child hear criticism of his mother.

(52) Few men realise that a mother needs some fun in life too.

(53) There is usually something wrong with a child who asks a lot of questions about sex.

(54) A married woman knows that she will have to take the lead in family matters.
(55) It is a mother's duty to make sure she knows her child's innermost thoughts.

(56) Taking care of a small baby is something that no woman should be expected to do all by herself.
APPENDIX D-2.

PARENT ATTITUDE SURVEY.

INSTRUCTIONS.

Directions:

This survey is concerned with parents' attitude toward child-rearing. At first, you will probably find it difficult, but as you proceed, it will go more rapidly.

Below are presented 30 pairs of statements on attitudes towards child rearing. Your task is to choose ONE of the pair (A or B) that most represents your attitude, and place a circle around the letter (A or B) that precedes that statement.

Thus A parents should like their children.

B) Parents frequently find children a burden.

Note that in some cases it will seem that both represent the way you feel, while on other occasions, neither represents your point of view. In both cases, on other occasions, neither represents your point of view. In both cases, however, you are to choose the one the most represent your point of view. As this is sometimes difficult to do, the best way to proceed is to put down your first reaction. Please pick one from each of the pairs.

1. (A) parents should give some explanations for rules and restrictions.
   (b) children should never be allowed to break a rule without being punished.

2. (A) parents do much for their children with no thanks in return.
   (B) Children should have tasks that they do without being reminded.

3. (A) parents should sacrifice everything for their children.
   (B) Children should obey their parents.

4. (A) Children should follow the rules their parents put down.
   (B) Children should not interferes with their parents' talk.
5. (A) Parents should watch their children all the time to keep them from getting hurt.

(B) Children who always obey grow up to be the best adults.

6. (A) Children should never be allowed to talk back to their parents.

(B) Parents should accompany their children to the places they want to go.

7. (A) Children should learn to keep their place.

(B) Children should be required to consult their parents before making any important decisions.

8. (A) Parents should do things for their children.

(B) A child's life should be as pleasant as possible.

9. (A) Personal untidiness is a revolt against authority so parents should take the matter in hand.

(B) A good child always asks permission before he does anything so he doesn't get into trouble.
10. (A) Children should be taught to follow the rules of the game.

(B) A child's life should be as pleasant as possible.

11. (A) Parents should cater to their children's appetites.

(B) Many parents wonder if parenthood is worthwhile.

12. (A) Children should not tell anyone their problems except their parents.

(B) Children should play wherever they feel like in the house.

13. (A) Good form of discipline is to deprive a child of the things that he really wants.

(B) Children should do what they are told without arguing.

14. (A) Children should play wherever they feel like in the house.

(B) Good children are generally those who keep out of their parent's way.
15. (A) Good children are generally those who keep out of their parents' way.
(B) Children should not be allowed to play in the living room.

16. (A) Children should come immediately when their parents call.
(B) Parents should give surprise parties for their children.

17. (A) Parents should watch their children all the time to keep them from getting hurt.
(B) Child should never be forced to do anything he doesn't want to do.

18. (A) Parents know how much a child needs to eat to stay healthy.
(B) A child needs someone to make judgments for him.

19. (A) Parents should see to it that their children do not learn bad habits from others.
(B) Good parents should lavish their children with warmth and affection.
20. (A) Children who destroy any property should be severely punished.

(B) Children cannot make judgments very well for themselves.

21. (A) Most parents are relieved when their children finally go to sleep.

(B) Children should come immediately when their parents call.

22. (A) The most important thing to teach a child is discipline.

(B) Parents should give their children all that they can afford.

23. (A) Parents should make it their business to know everything their children are thinking.

(B) Quiet, well-behaved children will develop into the best type of grown-up.

24. (A) Parents should feel great love for their children.

(B) Parents should have time for outside activities.
25. (A) Sometimes children are inconvenient.
(B) Children should be reprimanded for breaking things.

26. (A) Children do many things just to torment their parents.
(B) Parents should insist that everyone of their commands be obeyed.

27. (A) Punishment should be fair and fit the crime.
(B) Parents should feel great love for their children.

28. (A) Children who lie should always be spanked.
(B) Children should be required to consult their parents before making any decision.

29. (A) Parents should hide dangerous objects from their children.
(B) Parents should watch their children all the time to keep them from getting hurt.

30. (A) Modern children talk back to their parents too much.
(B) It seems that children get great pleasure out of disobeying their elders.

***