CONTENTS

Chapter                                      Pages

Preface                                      1 - 3
1. The parent-child relationship             6 - 34
2. Problems and techniques of investigation  35 - 76
3. Child’s physical environment              77 - 103
4. Some demographic characteristics of the families studied. 104 - 141
5. Socio-economic status                     142 - 176
6. Motherhood and maternity                  177 - 207
7. The first year of life                    208 - 242
8. Mother’s perception of the child          243 - 272
9. Analysis of the data                      273 - 293
10. Discussion of results                    294 - 304
11. Summary and Conclusions                  305 - 314

Appendix...A                                 316
Appendix...B                                 317
Appendix...C                                 318-A
Appendix...D-1                               318 - 328
Appendix...D-2                               329 - 335
Bibliography                                 336 - 343