APPENDIX 3

ACHIEVEMENT VALUE INVENTORY

INSTRUCTIONS

Few settings related to the behaviour of students like you, are given in this pamphlet. In each setting one or more persons are doing something. Six probable reasons or aims are given for each act under a particular setting. First of all you have to study carefully each setting. Then you have to put a cross (X) mark only in the circle shown against a reason or aim which you consider most appropriate. An example of the method of answering is given below.

Example:

SETTING A boy stands at the bus stop.

PROBABLE REASON OR AIM

- 1. He is waiting for the line bus.
- 2. He is looked at the advertisement pasted at the bus stand.
- 3. He is waiting for his friend.
- 4. He is waiting for the city bus which takes less fare.
- 5. He could not get into the bus due to the over crowding for the passengers.
- 6. He is watching the cunningness of the conductor giving the tickets to the passengers alighting from the bus.
In the above mentioned example one setting and, below it six reasons are given. A cross (X) mark is given in the square shown against the reason No. 4, that means, the student who put the mark, has considered this as the most appropriate reason. However, it is possible that No. 1 or No. 6 or any other reason may appear more appropriate to you. If it is so, you put the cross mark against the reason which you consider as most appropriate. Remember that you are to put the cross mark (X) in only one circle.

While answering remember the following facts:
1. We want to know as to how well and quickly you can understand your own or others' behaviour or work, so try to answer as quickly as possible.
2. Put the cross (X) mark against only one sentence and don't write anything anywhere.
3. It takes nearly fifteen minutes to answer all the questions in the booklet for the students like you.
4. Answer each question.
5. The idea behind the questionnaire is neither to pass or fail you, nor has it any relation with your school work or daily lessons.

Now turn over and begin your work
