

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

I have a great pleasure in expressing my deep sense of indebtedness and heartfelt gratitude to Professor N. K. Agarwal, M. Sc., Ph. D., Head, Department of Physics of this University, for his expert and valuable guidance and encouragement given to me during the course of this work.

I am thankful to Dr. A. R. Jais, Reader in Physics for going through the final manuscript and for helpful suggestions and discussions during the present research work.

I am grateful to Professor N. S. Joshi (Retd. Head, Department of Physics) for providing excellent laboratory facilities necessary for this endeavour. The author wishes to acknowledge the help received from Professor S. N. Patel, Head, University Service and Instrumentation Centre, (USIC), and his staff for the technical assistance. The help received from Mr. S. R. Patel and Mr. U. R. Rao in the construction of furnace and glass blowing work respectively is also acknowledged.

My sincere thanks are recorded to Professor P. D. Patel, Dr. G. K. Shivakumar and Dr. D. Lakshminarayana for their valuable suggestions and discussions. I am also thankful to Dr. N. S. Patel for his skilful technical assistance with the electron microscopic work.

I am very much grateful to all my research colleagues who made valuable contribution to the present investigation either directly or indirectly. The co-operation of the staff of the office is also thankfully appreciated. Thanks are also due to Mr. Prakash Salvi for neat and tidy typing of the final manuscript.

The author expresses his indebtedness to Shri D. H. Desai, Principal and Dr. J. V. Patel, Head, Department of Physics, Sirsa Jagadgurji Arts & Science College, Bharuch for their all sort of inspiration, encouragement and blessings for this work. I thank my colleagues in the Department of Physics and all the members of the staff of Sirsa Jagadgurji Arts & Science College, Bharuch for their good wishes.

I am also thankful to the University Grants Commission (U.G.C.), New Delhi for the financial assistance during the present work.

Lastly, but not the least I remember all my family members whose co-operation and blessings far exceeds what the words of appreciation can express.
