ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This study of "Modernisation of Agriculture In A Traditional Backward Agricultural Area - A Case Study in Eastern Uttar Pradesh" is submitted for the award of the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in Economics of Sardar Patel University.

The author would like to express his sincere gratitude to Dr. V.S. Vyas, Professor and Head of the Department of Economics and Dean, Faculty of Arts, Sardar Patel University for his untiring patience in supervising and guiding this study.

Sincere thanks are due to the Ford Foundation for providing the opportunity to complete the field work while the author was with them. The author remembers with gratitude late Dr. W. Finner's interest in this study in its initial stages.

The author is grateful to Dr. W.D. Hopper, President, International Development Research Centre, Ottawa, Canada, for his numerous kindnesses throughout their association which dates back to 1953. Without his encouragement and support, the author would not have embarked on this study and his discerning help while it was being written has been of immense value. The credit of creating an aptitude for and interest in research goes to Dr. R.D. Singh, with whom the author was associated for a long time. His interest in the present study was of immense value.
Dr. V.N. Misra and Dr. P. Kumar helped with the analysis of the data and with their comments and suggestions. The author profited a great deal from the comments and suggestions of Dr. D. Singh, Dr. Jai Krishna, Dr. D.S. Tyagi and Dr. N.S. Jodha. Mrs. Maggie Thomas took pains in going through the manuscript. To all of them the author renders thanks. Thanks are also due to Mr. S.B. Deshmukh and Mr. Prem Advani for their help in typing. The author wishes to express his thanks to his wife for her patience during the course of this study.

Last, but not the least, the author's thanks go to the many farmers of the area for their hospitality and willing cooperation, without which this study would not have been possible.
