ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS
This thesis cannot be considered complete unless and until I acknowledge people who have given me the support, direction and guidance to complete this difficult task. First and foremost, I thank God for giving me the strength and will to do my doctoral research and for giving me the opportunity and resources to achieve my dreams. I would like to put on record that my dream of doing my doctoral research in the field of 'advertising' became a reality due to my thesis guide and academic mentor, Prof. J.S. Panwar. He has been a constant source of motivation and has always taken out time from his real hectic schedule to hear out my doubts and show me the right way of doing things. Sir, I would always be thankful to you for being the perfect mentor.

I am sincerely grateful to my director PAT (Prof. Atul Tandan), who encouraged me time and again to complete my research work and also gave me the required resources. I am more than grateful for the flexi-time given by the institute to complete my thesis, without which I do not think I would have got enough time to complete this assignment. At MICA, I have been blessed with friends who are more than office colleagues. Special thanks go to Deval, who helped me in her own sweet and caring way! I remember how you volunteered to take the online program class when I was busy writing my thesis. JalpOOH, the designer helped me in formatting the thesis and he is the one who has kept my humour alive in times of insanity. My friend and brother Mathew, has been the back stage artist who whispers dialogues so that the actor on stage can deliver a fantastic performance. He has truly encouraged me to complete my thesis and been a constant support and guide at all times of doubts. I marvel at his quality of patiently listening to all my queries and I wonder how he has answers to anything and everything under the sky! He has been, is and will always be the role model for me as the “ultimate teacher”. Thanks to Dwari, Shubhra, Hemantbhai, Mini, Pradeep Krishnatray, Julie, S’aileshbhai, Niraj, Zalabhai, Ashokbhai who have helped me in one or the other way. I specially thank all the respondents for taking time out of their hectic schedules to give me insights into the world of brands and branding.

My grandparents played a crucial role in giving me the values that has made me the human being I am today. As a school going kid, I used to feel proud of my grandfather who was my walking talking dictionary and my grandmother who gave me a rich childhood with her love and care. My parents' – Mummy and Pappa gave me the right foundation of quality education and at times have sacrificed their own joys to give me the best in life. Thank you Mummy for the strong values that you have cultivated in me which has made me a better human being. I remember how after a tiring day at office you would help me with my homework! Pappa has always stood by me and given me all the space and freedom required to grow in life. Pappa, you have always been my pillar of strength and I am proud to have a doting father like you! Abhi has always been my kid brother who I know is always there for me whenever I need him. I don’t think it’s even possible to list down all that they have done for me till date. The list is endless.

I am lucky to get a second set of parents in my in-laws. My father in law (Himanshubhai Oza) has supported me by taking a keen interest in my progress in my professional life and my mother in law (Shrutiben Mehta) has always been by my side. At times she has taken all the burden of domestic and social chores in order to give me enough time to complete my research work. I have not come across many such people who publicly recognize and appreciate the achievements of their daughter in law. Both of them have made me feel as if I am more a daughter to them rather than a daughter in law. I have seen the glow in their eyes at the very mention of my Ph.D.

Total credit for making my dream of becoming a Ph.D. turn into a reality goes to my husband. I have always seen my dream of becoming a Ph.D. in his eyes. There were times when my passion to complete the research work took a backseat. It was Dirghayu’s constant encouragement and at times the irritating reminders that have resulted in this thesis today! He has been the most supportive friend who did not mind accompanying me on my numerous trips to Vallabh Vidya Nagar to meet my guide or to the printer! He is the one who has taken care of my schedules and given sacrifices for my research deadlines. Dirghayu, I feel and acknowledge the fact that life becomes worthwhile when you have the right person on your side. You have given me the love, strength, and support which has made me sail through tough times. Dirghayu has been the hand that comes to help whenever needed and very easily becomes invisible when not needed to ensure that I get total credit for my accomplishment. Thank you Dirghayu for being there always!
