I sincerely acknowledge the guidance and the persuasive encouragement from my guide Dr. I. J. Upadhyaya, Reader, Department of Education, S.P. University.

It has been an educationally enriching and rewarding experience to work under his guidance. I found in him an enthusiastic researcher and a gentle teacher and I thank him for the deep involvement and interest with which he offered the guidance.

To
My sincere thanks Dr. I. A. Vora for the willing help he rendered, specially in finalising the design and the analysis of the data and the discussions that provided new insight every time.

I also thank Prof. J. K. Dave, Head of the Department of Education and the Librarians of M. B. Patel college and Baikaka library as well as CASE Library, M. S. University, Baroda.

I deeply appreciate the co-operation of my friends and colleagues and thank all those who motivated me in some way or the other.

At this juncture, I remember with deep respect and sincere gratitude all my teachers who instilled in me the love for poetry and learning especially Prof. M. B. Buch and Prof. S. J. Mehta who were instrumental in making me take up this challenge.

I would like to thank all the students and teachers who were directly involved in this project for sharing my interest and enthusiasm. The excitement of a novel experience was theirs; the pleasure of working with them was mine and the success is ours.

My special thanks to Dr. Abraham, Mrs. A. Havewala, Suganthi, Purnima, Shivang, Vasu and Dennis.

Damayanthi S. Moses