ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I express my deepest sense of reverence to Dr. S. G. Deobhankar, Reader, Post-graduate Department of Business Studies, Sardar Patel University, Vallabhbhi Vidyanagar, whose thought provoking, able and stimulating guidance and constructive criticism at all the stages of work have greatly benefitted in this work.

I am grateful also to Prof. (Dr.) D. M. Shah, Head, Post-graduate Department of Business Studies, Sardar Patel University, Vallabhbhi Vidyanagar for his keen and continuous interest he has shown in my work.

Thanks are also due to number of friends and well-wishers who have helped me at various stages of preparing this thesis. My thanks are particularly due to the Managers and the officials of selected Urban Co-operative Banks who have directly or indirectly assisted me in my work.

This type of research involves extensive and intensive reference work which requires frequent visits to different libraries. In this regard, I am thankful to Librarians of Bhaikaka Library, Sardar Patel University, Vallabhbhi Vidyanagar; Smt. Hansa Mehta Library of Maharaja Sayajirao University, Vadodara; Institute of Rural Management, Anand, for their willing co-operation and help. My colleagues in the department, Dr. M. K. Patel and Dr. P. K. Rathod provided me their whole-hearted co-operation and necessary support in this research work, wherever asked for.
During my research work, I received constant encouragement from my wife and brother, who boosted me morally to complete the work. I owe debt to them.

I am also grateful to all my respondents and banks who patiently responded to my queries and without their co-operation the thesis would not have seen light of the day.

The willing service rendered by Shri Niranjan Parmar for timely, accurate and decent printing of this thesis are also appreciated.
