CHAPTER I INTRODUCTION, PROBLEM AND METHODOLOGY: 1 - 20
Introduction - Problem - Objective - Methodology - Data required - Selection of sample - Data collection - Analysis - The Plan of the Study.

CHAPTER II A REVIEW OF THE LITERATURE: 21 - 41

CHAPTER III SELECTED AREA AND SELECTED FARMERS: 42 - 58

CHAPTER IV MARKETING OF CROPS AND BEHAVIOUR OF PRICES 59 - 78
Pace of market disposals: Wheat - Sugarcane: Behaviour of prices: Price data - Price during the last three years: (a) Gur, (b) Sugarcane (c) Wheat - Trend and variations from one year to another Post harvest variations.

CHAPTER V NATURE OF FARMERS' PRICE EXPECTATION: 79 - 137
Definitions - Hypotheses - Some questions of procedure - Results and Discussion: Relative Profitability - Expected change - Expectation of the trends in prices - Expected future prices: (a) wheat, (b) sugarcane - Most probable Price: (a) wheat, (b) Sugarcane - Expectations of leaders and followers - Probability of different expected prices - Image date: Testing of hypotheses - Significant findings.
CHAPTER VI

FOUNDATIONS OF EXPECTATIONS AND EXPECTANCY BEHAVIOUR:

CHAPTER VII

EXPECTATION MODELS AND THEIR PREDICTIVE VALIDITY:

CHAPTER VIII

ESTIMATES OF TOTAL SUPPLY RESPONSE FOR WHEAT AND SUGARCANE:

CHAPTER IX

MAIN FINDINGS AND THEIR IMPLICATIONS:
Main findings - Nature of Expectations about future price - Expectancy behaviour - Supply response: Methodological implications - Practical implications - Area for further Research.
