Acknowledgement

I would like to thank all people who have helped and inspired me during my doctoral study and it’s a pleasure to convey my gratitude to them all in my humble acknowledgement.

Foremost, I would like to express my sincere gratitude to my advisor Prof. Hiware C. J. for the continuous support of my Ph.D study and research, for his patience, motivation, enthusiasm, and immense knowledge. His guidance helped me in all the time of research and writing of this thesis.

I am deeply indebted to Late. Prof. B.V. Jadhav, a well known Helminthologist, for crucial contribution, which made me a backbone of this research. His involvement with his originality has triggered and nourished to my research sense that I will benefit for a long time to come.

I am also grateful to Dr. S. P. Zambare, Professor and Head, Department of Zoology, Dr. Babasaheb Ambedkar Marathwada University, Aurangabad for his encouragement and administrative help time to time.

I gratefully thanks to all the teaching & non-teaching staff members of this department for their appropriate suggestion and encouragement respectively.

Most of the results described in this thesis would not have been obtained without a close collaboration with few laboratories. I owe a great deal of appreciation and gratitude to a great scientist Dr. S. R. Dey Sarkar Zoological Survey of India who’s guidance and literature provided in the form of keys was really a boost for my research work. I am also thanks to Dr. Ramkrishna, Director, Zoological Survey of India, Kolkata for giving me a chance to participate in the training programme at their institution.

My thanks are also due to Dr. Mikulas Oros, Parasitological Institute, Slovak Academy of sciences, Slovak Republic (EUROPE) for providing me necessary help in my study and also sending a beautiful Scanning Electron Microscopic Photographs of parasites and friendly affection.

My heartfelt thanks to Mr. Pravin and Mr. Yogesh Gaikwad, Shivaji University Kolhapur (M.S.) for helping me to carry out SEM as a part of my research work at their institute.

I take this opportunity to sincerely acknowledge the “University Grants Commission (UGC)” for providing me financial assistance in the form of fellowship under the scheme “UGC-Research Fellowship in Science for Meritorious Students (RFSMS)” which buttressed me to perform my work comfortably.

Where would I be without my family? My parents deserve special mention for their inseparable support and prayers. My father (Pappa) in the first place is the person who put the fundament my learning character, showing me the joy of intellectual pursuit ever since I was child. My mother (Mummy) is the one who sincerely raised me with her caring and gently love.

I would like to pay high regards to my whole family members and relatives for their sincere encouragement and inspiration throughout my research work and lifting me uphill this phase of life. I owe everything to them. Besides this, several people have knowingly and unknowingly helped me in the successful completion of this thesis.

Collective and individual acknowledgements are also owed to my dear Lab. Colleagues whose present somehow perpetually refreshed, helpful and memorable. Thanks for giving me such a pleasant time when working together.

I owe my sincere thanks to my friends for understanding difficulties and encouragement in many crucial moments. Your friendship made my life a wonderful experience. I cannot list all the names here, but you are always on my mind.

I also benefited by outstanding works from Shri B. S. Dhokane [Photo artist] with his particular skill in photography and designing the photoplates is gratefully acknowledged.

Finally, I would like to thank everybody who was important to the realization of thesis, as well as expressing my apology that I could not mention personally one by one.

As I may unintentionally skip somebody, I thank them in the first place, everyone who felt “forgotten” after reading this.

Mr. Sujeeet Vishwanathrao Jamdar
