ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I have had the privilege of working under the thought-provoking, able and stimulating guidance of Professor V.R. Joshi, and have greatly benefitted from his constructive criticism at all stages of the work. To him, I owe the deepest debt of gratitude.

I am indebted to Professor M.K. Shah, Head, Post-graduate Department of Commerce, Sardar Patel University for his keen interest he has shown in my present work.

I would particularly like to convey my sincere thanks to Professor S.C. Kushhal and Professor G.S. Gupta of Indian Institute of Management, Ahmedabad for their valuable suggestions and encouragement which they provided during my one year stay at the Institute for the Programme for Development of Management Faculty, which proved to be of great help in completing the present work.

This study would not have been possible but for the co-operation of numerous organisations and individuals. To them I owe an academic debt. I specially acknowledge my thankfulness to the concerned office bearers, executives and the milk producer members of the District Co-operative Milk Producers' Unions in Gujarat, who extended their whole-hearted support to me for this work, the Registrar, Co-operative Societies, Ahmedabad and his subordinates, who have extended all collaboration by furnishing available and on-hand data for this study.

I would, in addition, like to express my sincere thanks to Professor J.D. Thaker for timely help and encouragement.

I appreciate the willing services rendered by Mr. J.C. Christian for typing the thesis decently.
