ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I was distinctly fortunate to be awarded a UGC Research Fellowship by Anna University. Prof. R K Subramanian, SCSE readily agreed to be my supervisor. Prof. R K Subramanian has channelised my talent and his ability to help me tide over personal crises has put me firmly on the pursuit of an interesting problem in the area of 'Distributed Computing'. I am indebted to him for all his help and encouragement.

A few months before joining as a full-time research scholar at Anna University, Maj. Gen. A Balasubrahmanian advised me to work with Prof. C R Muthukrishnan on the topic 'Concurrent Programming' for the Encyclopedia of Computer Science published by Marcel Dekker Inc., USA.

Prof. C R Muthukrishnan readily agreed and what followed was a punishing work schedule for six months. His sharp observations and rare insights on the subject have greatly helped me in deciding to work towards a Ph.D degree in the area. His continued keen interest in my work has further enhanced the quality and depth of perception of my research area.

The roller-coaster tryst with my research work began after Prof. R K Subramanian left for Malaysia. It was Prof. V Sankaranarayanan who breathed life into my work and inspired me to progress rapidly in my research. His gentle, affectionate and yet very firm way of pushing me into the work proved to be the key factor in bringing the work to fruition. I wish to place on record my sincere and heartfelt thanks to Prof. V Sankaranarayanan.
Prof. H N Mahabala’s (IITM) untiring quest for perfection and the amazing aggressiveness with which he gets his problems solved has certainly influenced my thinking process.

Prof. S Natarajan’s (RCC, Anna University) innate ability to guide me through the turbulent phases of my work at SCSE has ensured that I got back to research without much ado. His gentle, polite and persuasive style of problem-solving and above all his humility are certainly worth emulating.

The ‘Prof. M Anandakrishnan (Vice-Chancellor, Anna University) effect’ on my attitude and approach to every facet of my work and life is beyond description.

I must also thank Dr. V Ganapathy, Director, SCSE and all my colleagues at SCSE for their encouragement and co-operation.

I wish to place on record my sincere thanks to Prof. T R Natesan, Vice-Chancellor, Gandhigram Rural Institute; Dr. K S Periyanayagam, Head, C-DAC, Bangalore; Mr. S Mahalingam, Vice-President, TCS, Madras; Mr. H R Mohan, Systems Manager, The Hindu, Madras; Prof. D K Subramanian, IISc., Bangalore; Mr. R Vaidyanathan, Sr. Manager (R&D), HCL-HP, Madras; for their valuable guidance and support at crucial times.

Last but not the least a big thanks to my parents and my wife for being unbelievably patient and co-operative with me during all those long drawn tough times. A major portion of the credit goes to all my students whose inquisitiveness and sublime keenness made me forget all the setbacks and tide over many a turmoil with a SMILE.

T V GOPAL