ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The author avails this opportunity to express his deep debt of gratitude to Dr. K. Dharmalingam, Professor of High Voltage Engineering for his able guidance and continuous encouragement during the course of this project. He considers himself to be very fortunate to have his guide's timely advices, constructive criticisms and more than anything else, the moral support at every stage. It has been indeed a pleasure to work with him.

The author expresses his thanks to Dr. V.C. Kulandaiswamy, the Vice-Chancellor and the authorities of Anna University for making available the financial aid towards the project.

The author wishes to thank Dr. P.C. Chandrasekharan, Dean of Engineering (PG) and Dr. B. Ilango, Head of Electrical Engineering Faculty for their well wishes and for all the encouragements given during the thesis work. He expresses his thanks to Mr. K. Udayakumar, his colleague for the unreserved comments and for useful discussions about the results. His sincere thanks are due to Dr. S. Rajapandian who has been a constant source of inspiration during the entire course of the project.

The author is much obliged to Dr. R.M. Umesh for his help rendered during the preparation of the thesis and Dr. K. Rangarajan for helping in certain chemical analysis. He is thankful to Mr. R. Venkatesh for his assistance in the conduct of experiments.

The author would like to place on record the help extended by Post Graduate students who were near and dear to him in all his endeavours connected with the thesis. He takes this opportunity to thank Messrs. D.S. Sivaguru, K. Chittibabu, G. Chakrapani, G. Muthu and C. Sabapathy of the Division of High Voltage Engineering for their cooperation during the conduct of experiments.
The author acknowledges with thanks Dr. V. Sankaranarayanan and Mr. V. Somu for providing the computer facilities for data analysis.

Thanks are due to M/s. Electronics India Ltd., Madras who have permitted to utilise their capacitor fabrication plant for the present work. His thanks are due to Mr.V. Lakshminarayanan and Selvi A. Jayanthi for draft typing from manuscripts, Mr. P.V. Viswanathan for his excellent drawing and stencil work, Selvi M. Rama Manohari for her neat electronic typing and M/s. Office Aids for their cooperation in xeroxing the materials.

Finally the author's thanks are due to Mr. S. Sriraman, Dr. M.Y. Sanavullah and Mr. A. Ebenezer Jeyakumar for spending the late evenings with him and changing the toughest periods into pleasant achievements.
