ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The author expresses his deep, sincere and heartfelt gratitude with profound sense of indebtedness to Professor P. Ramasamy, Crystal Growth Centre, Anna University, Madras, for his inspiring guidance, valuable suggestions and constant encouragement to carry out the present investigations successfully.

The author is extremely grateful to Dr. F.D. Gnanam, Reader in Physics, Crystal Growth Centre, Anna University, Madras, for his keen interest, critical and fruitful discussions and kind help throughout this work.

The author expresses his respectful feelings of gratitude to the authorities of Anna University, Madras, for providing excellent facilities to carry out this research in Crystal Growth Centre.

The author is also thankful to the Director of Collegiate Education, Madras-6, for granting permission to do part-time research.

Thanks are due to Dr. C. Subramanian and Dr. R. Gobinathan, Readers in Physics, Crystal Growth Centre, Anna University, for their co-operation, suggestions and help. The author specially thanks Dr. R. Gobinathan, for his help in taking excellent photographs of the instruments.

The author expresses his sincere thanks to Dr. T.K. Palaniswami, Professor and Head of the Department of Physics, Prof. P. Sivakumar, Prof. M. Shanmugham and Dr. K.A. Ravindran, Presidency College, Madras, for their constant encouragement and valuable suggestions.
Thanks are also due to Prof. N. Palaniandavar, Dr.M. Palanisamy, Dr.N. Kanniah, Prof.G.Raman, Prof.K.Thangaraj, Mr.S. Anbukumar, Mr.D. Jayaraman and Mr.P. Sureshkumar, for their timely help and kind co-operation throughout this work.

The author is thankful to Mr.D. Arivuoli, Mr.B. Vengatesan and V. Natarajan, Research Scholars, for their kind help throughout this work.

Thanks are due to Mr.V.N.Mani, Mr.S.Balasundaram and Mr.G. Ravichandran, for their assistance during the course of this work.

The author is extremely grateful to all the staff and research scholars of the Crystal Growth Centre for their kind co-operation in providing a peaceful, helpful and pleasant atmosphere in the research centre.

Thanks are also due to Mr.K.C. Madhavudu, Photographer, Geology Department, for his kind help in printing excellent photographic plates.

The author expresses his warm appreciation to Mr.N. Neelakantan, for neatly typing this thesis.

L. PALANIAPPAN