In the name of Allah, the most Gracious, the most Merciful; He says: “Read! In the Name of your Lord, Who has created (all that exists)”. All praise and glory go to the Almighty Allah, the one above all of us, the omnipresent God, for His bounteous mercy and kindness, for answering my prayers, and for giving me the strength, patience, and hope. Without His kindness and mercy, I would not have been able to complete this endeavor.

First and foremost, I offer my sincerest gratitude to my supervisor, Dr Hameed Khan for his excellent guidance, caring, patience, and providing me with an excellent atmosphere for doing research. Without him this thesis would not have been completed or written. His advice and unfailing support have been invaluable on both an academic and a personal level, for which I am extremely grateful. Above all and the most needed, he provided me unflinching encouragement in various ways. His truly literary intuition has made him as a constant oasis of ideas in literature, which exceptionally inspire and enrich my growth as a student, a researcher want to be. I am indebted to him more than he knows.

It is with immense gratitude that I acknowledge the support and help of the department staff. I owe sincere and earnest thankfulness to Dr. A. G. Khan the BCUD director, for he has made available his support in a number of ways. Dr. S.B. Deshpande the head of the department, Dr. Kashinath Ranveer, Dr. Mrs. Mabel Fernandes, Dr. Mrs. Mehrunnisa Pathan, Prof. Anand Obale, Prof. B.P. Bhosle. I am truly indebted and thankful to them all for their support and assistance since the start of my previous postgraduate work. I am heartily thankful to Dr Mustajeel Khan, for his encouragement, guidance and support from the initial steps of mine in Aurangabad. It gives me great pleasure in acknowledging his advice and willingness to share his bright thoughts with me, which were very fruitful. My special thanks go to Dr Frahat Durani and Dr Sheikh Parveez for their bright encouragement. I am indebted to them all.

My immeasurable gratitude to Sheikh Sultan Albarakani, Dr abdussalam Abdo Sallam (General Manager in Ministry of Health), Dr Mowaffa Albarraq (Principal of Alma’afar Community College), Mr. Mohammed Almurairy (Saudi Arabia), Mr Nasser Abdo, for their devotion to learning has inspired me and their support has given me the chance to continue my studies.
I have worked with great friends whose contribution in assorted ways to the research and the making of the thesis deserved special mention. It is a pleasure to convey my deepest gratitude to Abdulmalik Alshooki, Farooq and Ali Alsubari whose present perpetually refreshed, helpful, and memorable. They were always willing to help and give their best suggestions.

In my daily work I have been blessed with a friendly and cheerful group of fellow students. I would also like to warmly acknowledge the encouragement and support of Mu’ath Alshar’abi, Abdo Saeed, Najran Aldawlah, Abdulbaset za’za’i, Abdo Alssa’di, Ibraheem Abu Assaj, Nadhem, Fairooz, Ridhwan Hilaly, Khalid Sawma’i, Ali Ahmed, Theyazan, Ali Alshebami, Hamed Almuhaya, Sakhar Aldhabab, Osama Ma’mari, Abdulwahid Alnoman, and Abdulaheem Rajeh. I would like also to thank Ghazi and Abdulkhaleq, the Iraqi friends, for their constant caring and vocal support.

It is a pleasure to pay a big thank you to Aref Thoubhani, Dheya Sanawi, Mohammed Al’aroudhi, Majid Juma’i, Wadhah Imrani, Ghassan Ma’mari, Abdullah Qudaimi, Rasheed and Waleed Alsharafi, (Ghamdan, Mohammed, Saleh, and Akram) Alsubari, Saqr Mansoob, Osama Shar’abi, Adel Ba’dani, Hashem, Hasun, and Sam for their vocal support.

I cannot but recognize with gratitude the invaluable encouragement and support of Abdulbari Albarakani, Waleed Hanash, Muneeb, Mohammed Naji (Malaysia), Rushdi (Russia), Rashad (Germany), Rajab Jum’an, Abdulrahman Al’ahmar, and Nabil Harazi. They have fascinated me with their ability to offer me a help whenever I may be in need. I was extraordinarily fortunate in having such close people who have given me their unequivocal support throughout, as always, for which my mere expression of thanks likewise does not suffice.

I am indebted to my Indian colleagues Mr. Abdulwajid Pathan, Anjum, Vijay Matkar, and Ramesh who supported me promoting a stimulating and welcoming academic and social environment.

My mother deserves special mention for her inseparable support and prayers. She is the one who sincerely raised me with her caring and gently love. I would like to thank my family members, brothers, sisters, and cousins, especially Saif Ali, for supporting and encouraging me to pursue this degree. They were always supporting me and encouraging me with their best wishes.
A very special recognition needs to be given to my wife, my daughter Zainab, my sons Sultan and Omer for their unconditional love and support in every way possible throughout the process of the master degree, this dissertation and beyond. Without my wife’s encouragement, I would not have finished the degree. She was always there cheering me up and stood by me through the good times and bad. Words fail me to express my appreciation to her whose dedication, love and persistent confidence in me, has taken the load off my shoulder.

Finally, I would like to thank everybody who was important to the successful realization of thesis, as well as expressing my apology that I could not mention personally one by one.