The illustrious Gurus who are guiding and molding me, Dr. K.P. Misra, Dr. Usha Sriram, Dr. Arjun Rajagopalan, Dr. Jayaprakash Muliyil, Dr. K.R. John.

My research supervisor, guide, mentor Prof. Ch. Satish Kumar for being my sole companion and confidante during the research journey

The presiding deity of the temple of my heart, Hanuman, the epitome of power and humility, who guides me and guards me

The members of my Doctoral Committee, Mr. P. Subramaniam, Prof. Gabriel, and Dr. Balakrishnan who gave me appropriate guidance and advice

Dr. Amar Jesani and Dr. Mala Ramanathan, my well-wishers to whom I turned with questions and doubts at various stages of my research

Ms. Geetha Veliah and Ms. Meggha Sheth, two of my wonderful friends who believe in me and encourage me at good times and bad

Ram Prasad Gopichandran, Akila Swaminathan and Raghav Ram Prasad for their love, care and support.
To the many anonymous peer reviewers, who have patiently read the manuscripts which I had submitted as part of my PhD work and gave excellent reviews which have improved the quality of my work

Faculty and friends at the School of Public Health for their support and encouragement, especially Dr. Rajan Patil and Ms. Ajoke Akinola, my fellow PhD scholars and Prof. M. Bagavandas for his timely advice at various stages of the research

The students of the School of Public Health from whom I have derived love, affection, inspiration and encouragement throughout

Mr. Maria Jusler Kalsingh, Mr. Manish Baidya, Mr. Sunil Mathew, Ms. Vennila Sundaralingam, Mr. Balaganesh P, Mr. Palanisamy and Mr. Velmurugan who helped me in my field work and data collection

Office staff and secretary at the School of Public Health for support

Members of NODAL Point, our journal club, who acted as the sounding board for my ideas and helped me, develop them

Lastly, all the study participants without whose cooperation this research study would not have been possible.
