ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This Ph.D. thesis is brought out in this form by the continuous research work during the last five years and has been accompanied with my guide and supported by many people. Now, it is a pleasure moment to take the opportunity to express my sincere gratitude to all of them. I would like to thank everyone who has very kindly provided their support, encouragement and assistance during the progress of the thesis.

First of all, my sincere thanks and gratitude to Dr. P. Ernest Raj, for his able guidance, patience, constant care and kind encouragement throughout the course of the work that made me present this thesis in an efficient and effective way, without whose support this work would have not been concluded.

I would like to express my sincere gratitude to Dr. M.C.R. Kalapureddy, research co-guide for his timely suggestions and for looking after my official responsibilities in the institute. I am thankful to Dr. P.C.S. Devara, former Head, PM&A division for his lectures which really helped me to get some idea about the various observational techniques. I would like to thank Dr. Thara Prabhakar, programme manager, Physics and Dynamics of Tropical Clouds (PDTC), for her support during the Ph.D. course.

I am grateful to Prof. B.N. Goswami, former Director, IITM, for providing me an opportunity to work in this prestigious institution. I am gratefully acknowledging Dr. M. N. Rajeevan, Director, IITM, for his support and care towards research scholars, which in fact had a substantial influence in our confidence and vision.

My sincere gratitude to Athira, Priya, Sujith, Gibies and Shinita for their continuous support, both mentally and technically which really helped me in completing the thesis. Discussions with them and their encouragement was the main strength during the Ph.D. course. I am grateful to Suhas and Neena for their support and cooperation during initial stages of my research at IITM. I am thankful to Dr. S. M. Deshpande for introducing me to the UHF wind profiler system. I would like to extend my sincere gratitude to Manoj, Rahul, Sabeer, Dipu, Sakharam, Rohini, Anusha, Anil, Abhilash, Hamza, Prajeesh, Abhilash Panicker, Preethy, Prasanth, Leena and Resmy for their constant support during my research tenure at IITM.
I would like to thank Hari, Sachin, Gayathri, Neelam, Pushparaju and Krishnakanth for their support in the IGOC-CAIPEEX field campaign that was conducted at Mahbubnagar, Andhra Pradesh. My sincere thanks to Dr. G. Pandithurai, Shri. K.K. Dani, Dr. Mrs. Padmakumari, Dr. R.S. Maheshkumar, Shri. Sunil Sonbawne, Smt. Asha Nath, Smt. Sathy Nair, Shri. T. Dharmaraj and Shri. Sanjay Saha for their encouragement and support during the field campaign.

I am grateful to Dr. Anand Karipot and Dr. B.S. Murthy for their valuable suggestions. I express my sincere thanks to scientists of Radar group especially to Dr. Subrata K. Das and Dr. Kaustav Chakraborty and for their generous talk and discussions which helped me improve my perception.

My sincere thanks to the lab mates Vijay Kumar, Yogesh, Raja, Utsav, Sukanya, Ravi Waghmare, Dinesh and Sonali for their kind support during my research. Special thanks are to my friends Chinmaya, Ravikumar, Raju, R. Sreenivas, Aslam and Yesoubo for their cooperation in the IITM hostel. I also express my gratitude to Dr. Kaushar Ali, Shri. Sanjay, Shri. Murugavel, Shri. Trimbake and Shri. S. De with whom I used to play badminton that has given me immense pleasure and relief during spare time.

My special thanks to Dr. Mrs. P.S. Salvekar and Dr. H.P. Borgaonkar, Academic Coordinators at IITM for their cooperation and advice throughout my Ph.D. work. I would like to deeply acknowledge RF/RA committee for their support and timely suggestions, which helped me to improve my thesis. I am very grateful to CSIR, Govt. of India for providing me financial support through research fellowship.

I would like to specially thank my M.Sc. classmates Rahul, Aswathy, Max, Rajeev, Naseeja, Rehana and Rajesh for their constant encouragement during my post graduation which has given me the confidence to join IITM for Ph.D.

Finally I would like to acknowledge my family members for the inspiration and support they provided up to now. I enjoyed playing with my brother’s daughter Sivanya and this has given more positive energy to me for the accomplishment of the research.

Ruchith R.D.