ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

No work can be an outcome of individual effort, until and unless it is supported, helped, encouraged and systematically put in order by other tertiary help. This work of mine is not an individual effort, it is an effort of many individuals who supported me and contributed at different levels of my research. I feel greatly humbled for their valuable help, encouragement, cooperation and motivation.

As a matter of internal compliance, above all, I soulfully thank almighty God who blessed me to accomplish this mammoth task. It is not in mere admiration to an established custom that I express my gratitude and indebtedness to my revered supervisor, Dr. Amisha Gupta, for the magnitude of her benevolence and eternal guidance. Without her perpetual direction and guidance, my efforts would not have come to fruition. It was her knowledge and guidance that helped me in fine-lining and compiling all scattered thoughts in a well knit and proper woven piece of research and giving it the final shape. Her encouragement and constructive suggestions contributed immensely to the quality of this thesis. Her help is far above than these customary words. She is the key person who motivated and encouraged me to take up this unique area of research.

I take this privilege to express my thanks to Prof. Versha Mehta, Director, The Business School, University of Jammu for always being a support to me and for her valuable guidance at every step in my career.
I extend my heartfelt and sincere thanks to Prof. B. C. Sharma, The Business School; Dean Students Placements, University of Jammu and Nodal Officer, UDAAN Project without whose invaluable guidance and mentoring, this work would not exist. I will always be grateful to him for his valuable input and constructive suggestions throughout this work.
I extend my thanks to all the teachers in the faculty of The Business School, University of Jammu including Prof. Keshav Sharma, Prof. Neelu Rohmetra, Prof. Alka Sharma, Prof. Sameer Gupta, Prof. Parikshat Singh Manhas, Dr. Rajindra Mishra, Dr. Vinay Chauhan, Dr. Anil Gupta, Dr. Komal Nagar, Dr. Rachna Mahajan, Ms. Farah Choudhary and Ms. Saloni Devi who rendered unreserved help and assistance from time to time in several ways. Thanks are also due to the non teaching staff of The Business School for extending their help and support during the process. Therefore, I would like to express my heartfelt thanks to Mr. Rajneesh Baru, Mrs. Rupali Abrol, Mr. Sharif, Mr. Balwan Singh, Mr. Dileep Bhat, Ms. Sakshi Gupta, Mr. Gurcharan Singh, Mr. Duni Raj, Mr. Parshotam Sharma, Mr. Ravi Kumar, Mr. Tilak, Mr. Arjun and Mr. Moti. My thanks are also reserved for the library staff of Sri Mata Vaishno Devi University; librarians, Commerce Department and The Business School, University of Jammu for providing me the required literature, whenever I approached them.
On the home front, I owe my biggest debt of gratefulness to my father in law, Sh. Om Parkash Aggarwal and my mother in law, Smt. Manju Aggarwal who have always considered me no different from their own daughter. Needless to say that I am obliged to my father, Sh. Rajinder Kumar Aggarwal and my mother, Smt. Sunita Aggarwal who have all my thanks for always being very supportive and inspiring. I would like to acknowledge the support of my dearest kids at this juncture, Master Lavansh Aggarwal and Miss Navya Aggarwal for their love and care that gives me strength to complete my work. Their sacrifice and love are at par with that of my other family members. I also extend my very special thanks to all the mutual fund managers, experts and professionals for their inputs, support and guidance that put the research into its completion. I am also thankful to all the academicians, scholars, writers and authors whom I have referred to and quoted. For any errors or inadequacies that remain in this work, of course, the responsibility is entirely my own. I may have forgotten some of the worthy valuable support who contributed to this thesis in any way. My heartfelt thanks to them all!

Neha Aggarwal