ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

First and foremost, I would like to express my sincere gratitude to my research supervisor, Dr. Prakash Malikya, Senior Assistant Professor, Department of Environmental Sciences, University of Jammu, for his invigorating guidance, positive feedback, and extensive discussions around my work. His mentorship was paramount and I appreciate all his contributions of time and ideas to make my research experience prolific and stimulating.

I express my sincere thanks to Prof. Raj Kumar Rampal, Head, and Prof. A. K. Raina, Ex-Head, Department of Environmental Sciences, University of Jammu, for providing necessary infrastructure and resources to accomplish my research work. I am also thankful to Prof. S.P.S. Dutta, Dr. Sanjay Sharma, Dr. Deepika Slathia, and Mr. Rakesh Kumar Ani for their support and encouragement.

I take this opportunity to sincerely acknowledge the Department of Biotechnology (DBT), Government of India (Project No. BT/PRJ/10335/G/B/D/27/138/2008), New Delhi, for providing financial assistance in the form of Junior and Senior Research Fellowship which buttressed me to perform my work comfortably.

The management, staff members and workers of M/s Jay Dee Leathers Pvt. Limited, Jalandhar, deserve my sincere expression of thanks, for their help and cooperation.

It’s my pleasure to acknowledge, Head, Deptt. of Environment Sciences, Govind Ballabh Pant University of Agricultural Sciences and Technology, (G.B.P.U.A.T), Pantnagar, for providing the facilities of Atomic Absorption Spectrophotometer (AAS) for heavy metal analysis.

I owe a great deal of appreciation and gratitude to Dr. Ravikant Khajuria and Dr. Dheeraj Vyas, Indian Institute of Integrative Medicine (IIIM), Jammu and their staff members for carrying out the Liquid Chromatography-Mass Spectroscopy (LC-MS), Fourier Transform Infrared Spectroscopy (FTIR) and Antioxidative enzyme analysis.
I also express my thanks to the non-teaching staff of the Department of Environmental Sciences, University of Jammu for all the help they rendered me during my Ph. D. tenure.

I record my appreciation to my friends, all the senior researchers and fellow researchers of the Department, for their timely help and association.

Most of all, I would like to thank my family, for their love and patience, and for being the pillar of my sustenance throughout this endeavor. I can’t express my gratitude for my parents in words, for being a perpetual source of strength and motivation, especially during tough times in my Ph. D. pursuit. My acknowledgement will be incomplete, if I won’t thanks my little nephew, whose innocent smiling face has always been a stress quencher for me during my Ph. D. tenure.

Finally, I express my heartfelt gratitude to the one above all, The Almighty for bestowing upon me the courage to face the complexities of life and complete this project successfully.
