List of Tables

Table 1.1: Sample design of health tourism providers ..............................................................10
Table 1.2: Sample design of health tourism users......................................................................10
Table 3.1: 4Ps supply side model............................................................................................. 51
Table 3.2: Marketing mix..................................................................................................... 51
Table 3.3 Service Characteristics and Marketing Problems ..........................................................53
Table 3.4: World Regional Tourist Arrivals 1997-2006 (millions) ...........................................90
Table 3.5: Highest World Tourism Foreign Earnings Countries ...............................................90
Table 3.6 Foreign Tourist Arrivals to India (In millions)........................................................93
Table 3.7: Domestic Tourist Visits In India (In Million) ........................................................94
Table 3.8: Employment Generation through Tourism in India (In Million).............................95
Table 3.9: World Regional Tourist Arrivals 1997-2006 (millions) ...........................................90
Table 3.10: Highest World Tourism Foreign Earnings Countries ...............................................90
Table 3.11: Foreign Tourist Arrivals to India (In millions)........................................................93
Table 3.12: Domestic Tourist Visits In India (In Million) ........................................................94
Table 3.13: Employment Generation through Tourism in India (In Million).............................95
Table 4.1: Cost of health treatment in India and Thailand ......................................................126
Table 4.2: Concept of Health products......................................................................................134
Table 5.1: Year of Starting Business......................................................................................... 170
Table 5.2: Area of Operation.................................................................................................. ...171
Table 5.3: ‘t’ Test between Year of Starting the Business and Area of Operation .................172
Table 5.4: Health Tourism Products Providing.........................................................................172
Table 5.5: Accessible Health Tourism Market to Business ......................................................173
Table 5.6: Concentrated Targeting Highly Effective ..............................................................175
Table 5.7: Strategies Required for Market Positioning ............................................................176
Table 5.8: Change in Market Positioning Strategies .............................................................177
Table 5.10: Market Segmentation Process ..................................................................................179
Table 5.11: Present Market Size.............................................................................................. ...180
Table 5.12: Present Market Growth Rate ................................................................................182
Table 5.13: Market Profitability ...............................................................................................183
Table 5.14: Industry Cost Structure ..........................................................................................185
Table 5.15: Distribution Channels ...........................................................................................186
Table 5.16: Resource Utilization.............................................................................................187
Table 5.17: Market Segmentation allows Effective Targeting of New Customers ...............188
Table 5.18: Market Segmentation and Competitive Advantage .............................................190
Table 5.19: Geographical Segmentation Influence Health Tourism Marketing....................191
Table 7.4: Age Group and Demand

Table 7.5: Demand for Health Tourism Products

Table 7.6: Demand for Health Tourism Products in the Last 12 Months

Table 7.7: Balancing of Demand and Supply

Table 7.8: Demand Exceeds Capacity, Rent or Share Extra Facilities

Table 7.9: Demand Levels Change Randomly

Table 7.10: Reservation System Essential for Controlling Demand

Table 7.11: Marketing mix Elements can be used to Shape Demand Pattern in Health Tourism Marketing

Table 7.12: Unoccupied time Larger than Occupied

Table 7.13: Complaint Handling and Service Recovery Procedures are Effective

Table 7.14: Financial and non Financial Rewards Required to Increase Performance

Table 7.15: Health tourism service Accommodated

Table 7.16: Business as a Health Tourism Specialist

Table 7.17: Training and Monitoring Essential

Table 7.18: Staffing cost influence the profitability of the organization

Table 7.19: Recruiting Specialist Staff is time Consuming and Expensive

Table 7.20: Strategies and Tactics for Recruiting, Training and Safeguarding Relationships

Table 7.21: Quality of Personal Relationship between Company and Clients Become Vital

Table 7.22: Gap between Customer's Expectation Perceptions of Service

Table 7.23: Consumers' Expectations and Management Perceptions on Service Quality

Table 7.24: Customer Expectations and Quality Specifications Set for Service Delivery

Table 7.25: Gap between Actual and Expected Quality of Service Delivery

Table 7.26: Service Quality affects Firm's External Communication

Table 7.27: Customer Satisfaction and Service Quality are Pre Requisites for Brand Loyalty

Table 7.28: Providers feel that the Quality has been improved

Table 7.29: Quality pricing Policy in Sustaining Income

Table 7.30: One-Sample Statistics

Table 7.31: One-Sample Test

Table 7.32: Descriptive Statistics

Table 7.33: Correlation Analysis of Demand Variables
Table 8.64: Customer Oriented Service .................................................................342
Table 8.65: Identify the Need of Customers ............................................................343
Table 8.66: Average SERVQUAL score for Empathy ............................................343
Table 8.67: Unweighted SERVQUAL score ...........................................................344
Table 8.68: Weighted SERVQUAL score ...............................................................345
Table 8.69: Health Tourism industry in Kerala - SWOT analysis ..............................346