ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

In this moment of accomplishment and fulfilment, I am overwhelmed by a deep sense of gratitude to Prof. J. Mohan, my Supervisor, who has been a constant source of stimulation and encouragement. It was he who, in the first place, motivated me to take up this study. His actuating and substantive guidance, administered in his characteristic friendly style, enabled me to complete this work without much hassles.

I would also like to express my grateful thanks to Dr. V.V. Upmanyu and Dr. (Ms) P. Vasudeva, the past and current Chairpersons of the Psychology Department respectively for their interest and sustained support; to Dr. (Ms) M. Sehgal and Dr. (Ms) A. Bhandari of the Psychology Department for their very useful help; and to Mr. C.M. Behl, Director/Head, Department of Computer Sciences and Applications, Panjab University, for his valuable assistance in the computer analysis of the data.

This study would not have been there but for the willing and active cooperation of the respondents who demonstrated much patience in filling up the lengthy test-schedules. I am greatly indebted to them. I would also like to put on record my profound gratitude to my office colleagues, especially Mr. Hari Krishan and Ms. Kumud Kapoor for their generous help and untiring efforts.

I offer my most respectful, humble, veneration to Shirdi Sai Baba and to my late mother who continues to shower her blessings from her heavenly abode. I am grateful to my father for his good wishes. A big thank-you hug to my dear wife, daughter and son.
