Acknowledgements

The most difficult part after completion of thesis is when you sit down on your desk and try to acknowledge all those who have helped you directly or indirectly through different phases of the research. It is because of the fear within ourselves, that we might miss out on someone important. It is very much human, and very much observed behavior. Therefore, I would like to officially start by apologizing to all those whom I have accidentally and not intentionally missed in the thanksgiving parade.

First of all I would like to thank Dr. K. D. Sharma, Professor and Chairperson, Department of Anthropology, Panjab University, Chandigarh. Dr. Indu Talwar, Professor; and Dr. R. K. Pathak, Professor; who were in the capacity of chairperson during my research work, for extending all infrastructural facilities for my research.

Second important person without whom it would have been impossible to conduct the research was my supervisor, Dr. Abhik Ghosh, Lecturer, Department of Anthropology, Panjab University. Throughout the research process, he had been extremely supportive. Despite of his extremely busy schedule he supervised the whole process very patiently, efficiently and in effective manner. Communicating problems encountered in and off the field were never a hindrance with his support. I would like to take this opportunity to express my heartiest gratitude and thankfulness towards him. Without him this research was impossible.

I take the opportunity to thank the staff of Department of Anthropology, Panjab University, for their support throughout my development as an Anthropologist. I would like to take this opportunity to thank my teachers, Dr. R.K. Pathak, C.J. Edwin, Dr. A.K. Sinha, Dr. K.D. Sharma, Dr. Indu Talwar, Dr. R.N. Vashisht, Dr. R. Gaur, Dr. B.G. Banerjee and Dr. S. Mehta, who have guided me in my graduation and post-graduation and made me capable enough to start with Ph.D.

I would like to mention the names of the most important people in my life, my family - my parents, Mr. D. N. Sood and Aruna Sood; my sister, Komal Sood and brother-in-law, Gaurav Jariwala. They have supported me in all ups and downs during the research. I have no words to thank them, or even think about thanking them possibly in form. I am grateful to heavenly blessings of my grandparents, Mr. Hari Om Sood & Late. Tara Devi Sood. Also, I would like to express my gratitude to the whole Sood family for their support and understanding through the most challenging phase in my life.

Selecting this research field was a challenging task. I would like to thank Mr. Mahesh Patil and Aditi Kant, who introduced me to the community.
In the field, a researcher cannot survive and extract the data without the support of the sample size chosen. I would like to thank all my respondents who were very supportive and receptive to the idea of research. The process of expressing my gratitude won’t be complete without the mention of some very important people that guided me in the field research at various points and were with me at every step of the field research. I would like to take this opportunity to thank Ervard Ramyar Karanjia who accommodated me in his busy schedule and helped me understand the intricacies of religion; Mr. Khajeste Mistree for allowing me to attend the classes for better understanding of religion; Mr. Adi Doctor for making me understand the mystic aspect of religion; Mr. Noshar Dadrawala and Mr. Vispy Wadia, for their valuable time. I would especially like to thank Ms. Urvashi Rustomscram who was my key informant.

A friend in need is a friend indeed. No one else can understand this phrase better than me. When I was overloaded with work pressures, I found support in my Mumbai friends for which I can not thank them in words. My sincere thanks to Aditi Kant has emotionally supported me through the process. She and Abhishek Shivastava were always there for me whenever I needed a breather. Subhomoy Basu who did graphics work and was the major contributors towards the moral support I needed through the research and constantly reminding me my Aim... Thanks Guys!!!

I would also like to express my gratitude towards Jyoti Sood and Komal Sood who did the editing. Especially my lovable angel Komal, who made her work suffer to edit the thesis for me. Thanks dear!!!

I would like to thank Vikas Vashisht, Dhruv Sharma, Chakraverty Mahajan and Rupinder Singh Rana who were always there for moral support and gave valuable inputs, whenever required. I would also like to thank Purnima Parashar, Himani Mankotia Katoch, Geeta Garg, and Amit Dhiman for supporting me and tolerating my mood swings.

At last, I would like to thank people who were indirectly involved in this research process. They are Basu Kausal, Bharti Singla, Victoria, Akriti Sharma, Rohit Katoch, Anupama Khullar Anu Gupta, Vishal Chavan, Ajit Galgali, Ninad Chande, Sarvesh Chinagi, Khushboo Biyani, Aishwarya Sharma, Nidhi Duggal and Dr. Anand Singh.
