ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

On the completion of the present thesis, I wish to express my humble thanks to the Almighty for guiding me at all times, providing strength and courage till it lasted.

Many individuals have contributed to this thesis to all of whom I owe a deep gratitude. I would like to mention at least a few of them.

The research work embodied in this thesis has been carried out under the expert guidance and supervision of Prof. Dr. Shalina Mehta, Professor, Department of Anthropology, Panjab University, Chandigarh, India. My profound gratitude and most sincere acknowledgement is extended to her for her constant encouragement, intellectual insights and also the constructive criticism which were of immense help from the outset to the finale. I shall forever remain indebted to her for her consistent support and reassurance at every stage that helped sustain my dedication to this research.

Thanks are due to the present Chairman of the Department of Anthropology, Dr. Abhik Ghosh for providing the facilities necessary for conducting the present research. I am also indebted to all the faculty and staff members of the department for their cooperation and timely help.

The people I am most grateful to are the respondents of my study, who welcomed me into their lives, allowed me to accompany them as they went about their daily business and trusted in be to share their innermost feelings. It is through the many conversations and experiences with them that I have been able to better understand the processes described in academic literature.

I simply fumble for words to express my feelings and regard for my wife, daughters and son who have been a driving force behind all my achievements and enabled me to grow in an atmosphere of love and care to accomplish this work. My sincere thanks go to them for always accepting innumerable impositions and for standing by me in times of crises.

To my parents, a deep sense of love for their profound sacrifice. O revel in the memories of their sheer joy at all my endeavours. And for as long as I can remember their example has instilled in me both intellect and spirit.

Remembering friends, I wish to thank, Sapam Ranabir Singh, Dinesh Kumar, Sarbjit Singh, Sandeep Kaur, Mohammad Mehdi Heydari, Nitin Singh Mandla, Shruti Chopra, Gian Negi, Abbas Mokhtari, Ali Hasan Nezhad and Nasrollah Humand for their valuable help and support. Countless other well wishers who always had a helping hand to give are duly acknowledged.

In the Divine Presence of my Maker I humbly bow my head and offer this small endeavour.

[V·B]

Vajihollah Bagheri