ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The idea of pursuing the present doctoral thesis came from during my M. A. studies with Dr. Pramuel Engechandra, Chiangmai University, Thailand, who has guided my M.A thesis on Existentialism. Indeed, I am grateful to him with a sense of profound gratitude.

I would like to thank Prof. V.T. Sebastian, Department of Philosophy, Panjab University, Chandigarh for acting as supervisor of my doctoral thesis. I am grateful to him and appreciate his help and guidance throughout the days of my spending time in Panjab University and in developing the present Doctoral thesis. I am also grateful to the valuable suggestions rendered by him at the various stages of the preparations of this study. I am grateful to him for the time that he spent with me in making me understand the philosophy of Maurice Merleau-Ponty and J.P. Sartre by explaining the text. Furthermore, I appreciate his patience and sympathetic understanding of my 'inability' with English language.

I am grateful to the Hon’ble Vice- Chancellor Prof. Prathuang Bumphatracom, The Dean, Dr. Prajakra Rodahwuth, faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences and Philosophy Department, Nakhonsawan Rajabhat University, Thailand.

Let me record my sense of appreciation and thankfulness to Prof. R.P. Singh, Prof. Satyapal Gautam, Dr. Bhagat Oinam, and Dr. Manitipa Sen, Centre for Philosophy, School of Social Sciences, Jawaharlal Nehru University, New Delhi who were instrumental in providing me adequate training for M. Phil programme in philosophy. I am especially grateful to Dr. Oinam Bhagat who is instrumental to send me to Prof. V.T. Sebastian, Department of Philosophy, Panjab University Chandigarh for doctoral studies.

I am grateful to Prof. Dilip Kumar Mohanta, Calcutta University and Ramamurthy Venkateswaran, Deputy V.C JNU. I am thankful to their kindness and encouragement at various stages of this study.
I am indebted to Prof. H. P. Sah, Chairperson, Department of philosophy, Panjab University, Chandigarh for his guidance and constant moral support. I am also grateful to Prof. Geeta Manaktala, Prof. Dharmanand Sharma, Prof. Asha Maudgil, Dr. Shivani Sharma and Mr. Lallan Singh Bhagel for their valuable suggestions at various stages of this study. I would like to express my deepest gratitude and thanks to Dr. Reena Patra for her companionship and academic help. My thanks are also due to Dr. Pankaj Srivastava and also to the department Librarian, Ms. Hema Sharma and office staff especially Madan of the Philosophy department. I am also grateful to Prof. S. S. Bari for his valuable advice and also for his critical comments on few of my early papers.

I also appreciate the administrative help and care that I received from Prof. Naveen and Madam Neeta during the years of my study at Panjab University, Chandigarh.

Let me also thankfully remember my friends and colleagues in the University such as K.N.C. Nganba, Sandeep, Jarnail, Vikram, Sangkram, Preeti, Sulagunya Punyayodhin, Racharoat, Hazawaneec, for their support and encouragement all through these years of my study. I am also indebted to Vinod Kumar Choudhary, M. Phil/Ph. D (social policy) JNU, for his diverse assistance and guidance. I am also thankful to Thakur Tulsi Ram, Gupreet, Prawan, Satpal, for their excellent service from police head quarters, Chandigarh.

I am very grateful to my family and especially my mother, Sangwal and aunty, Thavai who have always encouraged me to pursue for higher studies in philosophy. I am indebted to their unconditional love and understanding. I am also grateful to my loving son Wimolkitti Pan Ngoen and cute daughter, Milinda Pan Ngoen for their love and encouragement. Let me acknowledge my gratitude and thanks to my sisters Wasana and Wilawan Panthong for taking care of my matters back home in Thailand.
