ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

With the blessings of Almighty and the co-operation of so many people I have accomplished the Ph.D work. Although it is not enough to express my gratitude in words to all those people who helped me, yet I would like to express my thanks to them.

My first debt of gratitude goes to my guide, Dr. Gurmail Singh, Professor, Department of Economics, for his advice, supervision and guidance. I warmly thank him, for his constructive criticism and extensive discussions pertaining to my work. Without his help, I could not have been able to complete my Ph.D thesis.

Thanks to Dr. (Mrs) Indu Bala Verma, Chairperson, other faculty members and administrative staff of the Department of Economics for their cooperation and assistance throughout the course of my research.

I take this opportunity to sincerely thank Dr. Sawarn Singh, Assistant Director, Population Research Centre, Panjab University for his unflagging encouragement and unabated inspiration throughout this research work. I also thank S. Resham Singh, Consultant, UNDP, ex manager, Malwa Grameen Bank, Ropar for providing me the historical background of the genesis of Self Help Group Programme.

I would also like to express my gratitude to my whole family for all their cooperation. I owe my loving thanks to my husband, S. Harvinder Singh and my little son Sahib Jot Singh for being so adjusting and accommodating. Warm thanks to my father- in- law, S. Bhupinder Singh and mother- in- law Mrs Jatinder Kaur, without their encouragement and understanding, it would have been impossible for me to finish this work. By shouldering the familial responsibilities, my mother- in- law has truly encouraged me to concentrate on my study. Thanks to my cousin S. Jaswinder Singh, brother- in- law, Er. Mehar Singh and my loving sister Dr. Puneet Kaur for their unconditional support. Finally, I am forever indebted to my parents, S. Bakhshish Singh and Mrs Paramjeet Kaur for their understanding, endless patience and encouragement when it was most required. Their timely encouragement and love has been my driving force, providing me inspiration and raising me up again at times when I got weary. My mother, though very kind yet very firm, has enabled me to be steadfast and never bend in times of difficulty. She has always reposed her faith in me, thereby motivating me to work harder and give my best.
