ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

At the outset, I express my heartfelt gratitude and veneration towards my esteemed teacher, supervisor and guide, Professor M. R. Khurana, Department of Economics, whose valuable guidance and continuous encouragement helped me in completing this thesis. But for his devoted interest and persistent association at all stages of this work, the same could certainly not have taken the present structure. Indeed, it is difficult to express all that he has bestowed upon me.

I am grateful to Professor Upinder Sawhney, Chairperson, Department of Economics for her constant support and guidance. Also, I am thankful to Dr. Naveen Sharma for his benign support during his chairmanship of the Department.

In fact, all the faculty of the Department has always been kind to me and I always felt that each of them was very friendly and steadfast in their support for me in this research. I acknowledge the support and cooperation given by Mr. Hari Chand and all the administrative staff of the Department, without which the completion of the work would probably have been difficult.

I sincerely welcome the affection that Dr. H. S. Shergill showered upon me by considering me as his own student and I shall always remain so to him.

I appreciate the contributions and cooperation from the various farming communities from the districts of Akola, Alwar, Bathinda, Karnal, Kohlapur, Mahendragarh and Jhunjhunu and Udaipur and the agricultural produce marketing societies in enlightening me with a variety of practical issues of agricultural marketing, which have been taken up in this study.

I shall always remain indebted to all the academicians, experts, researchers and scholars whose idea and thoughts encouraged me in formulating this study.

My special thanks to Mr. R. Ramaseshan, Managing Director and Chief Executive Director, National Commodity and Derivatives Exchange, Mr. Umesh Chandra Sarangi, I. A. S., Director, National Commodity and Derivatives Exchange and Chairman, National Bank for Agriculture and Rural Development, Mr. Joseph Massey, Non-Executive Director, Multi Commodity Exchange of India, Mr. Lamon Rutten, Managing Director and Chief Executive Director, Multi Commodity Exchange of India, Mr. P. Satish, Non-Executive Independent Director, Multi Commodity Exchange of India Limited for the guidance and support they extended to me for this research. I would also like to place on record the cordiality extended to me by Mr. B. C. Khatua, I. A. S., Chairman, Forwards Market Commission and his team during my visits to their office in connection with the present study. I acknowledge their support and guidance. I gratefully acknowledge the guidance and support from the staff of Ministry of Consumer Affairs, Food and Public Distribution, Government of India, New Delhi. I also record the support and cooperation provided by the staff of National Board of Trade, National Multi Commodity Exchange of India, Confederation of Indian Industry, Federation of Indian Chambers of Commerce and Industry and Centre for Monitoring of Indian Economy for providing guidance and database for this work.

I acknowledge the esteemed guidance of Dr. K. G. Karmakar, Managing Director, National Bank for Agriculture and Rural Development in framing up the objectives of this study. I acknowledge my source of inspiration, Dr. Prakash Bakshi, Executive Director, National Bank for Agriculture and Rural Development, who has always remained my motivator.

Last, but not the least, are the providers of my positive energy – my wife Anuradha and children Ipsitha and Abhaya. I could not have done this without the patience and confidence you placed on me throughout.

Date: 30 December 2009
Place: Chandigarh

(Rakesh Kumar Guglani)