Acknowledgement

My thesis would not have been possible without the support, guidance and help of several individuals who in one way or another contributed and extended their valuable assistance in my journey towards completion of this phase in my life.

First and foremost I would like to thank The Almighty for His kindness because I firmly believe that it is He who has shown me the path to reach where I am today. His constant blessings have helped me stride through the troubled waters and always stand firm behind myself irrespective of the availability of anyone else’s support and companionship in my life.

Coming back to the mortal world, one person who has influenced me a lot is my Guide and mentor Dr Shantanu Chowdhury. I express my heartfelt gratitude to him for giving me the opportunity to work in his lab. His enthusiasm and hardworking attitude is really infectious. His quest for knowledge has been inspiring for me and taught me exactly how to aggressively acquire knowledge from whatever source is available anywhere. He has taught me to not be satisfied with whatever I have achieved but to keep aspiring for more and aiming higher. I’ve learnt to not be confined within limits. His positive attitude has kept me going through the hardships encountered in various experimental problems. Thanks to his “back up” plans there was always plentiful to do if an experiment failed. As a person also he has played a part in developing my persona; his strict attitude has taught me to come out of secured territories and face the world which might not always be good to us. In addition to work I would also like to thank him for sharing our joys and sorrows like a friend.

My greatest friends in life have been my parents, Ma and Baba. The two strong pillars of my life. I can forget any sorrow, any hardship and take into stride any task, however big, as long as they are with me. Their belief that their daughter is the best has kept me going through some of the most difficult phases of my life. Baba’s constant support, gentle nudges when I got complacent, were a great encouragement. Ma’s strong trust that, whatever I do is correct, has given me confidence. Ofcourse I will never forget the numerous ways in which she tries to feed me to keep healthy. Words will always fall short if I try to acknowledge their love for me. They have always tried to provide me with the shade from life’s harshness. But everyday when they smiled and wished me all the best for the day it helped me pull through whatever be the rest of the events during that day. They have been my teachers since childhood, right from nursery. It is their teachings that have made me capable enough to be able to write a PhD thesis today. A special cheer to them for proof-reading my thesis. They have sacrificed many things to see me achieve this height. They have walked with me through all the ups and downs that I’ve faced till now. Their patience is admirable. I hope now I’ll be able to make them feel proud and give them double the happiness. I can go on writing but would just like to end it with “I love you Ma and Baba”.

The next fabulous person to come into my life is my husband, Rajesh. I must admit that there was a time when I did not feel confident about achieving this goal. It was his constant support and luring me with the prefix of “Dr” to my name that kept me going. His constant pushing me to strive through difficulties were always helpful. I have looked up to him for continuous guidance on things ranging from experimental details to other big challenges in life. I must admire his patience in hearing out all my problems and trying to solve them. Also for understanding me during upset moods due to obstacles in my work and silently trying to put in encouragement. Thanks for the numerous rolls and bhempuri treats he gave to celebrate small successes in my work. A big thanks also goes for correcting my thesis.

My family has also been very supportive to me. I adore and respect my aunt (Banipishi) for the immense support she has provided me. Whenever I was unwell she would take utmost care so that I could heal and return back to work in the lab. Words are really insufficient to express my appreciation for her. I express my gratitude to Mama and Mami for being with me always. Special thanks to mama for formatting the thesis.

I would also like to sincerely thank Prof. Samir K. Brahmachari, former Director of IGIB and presently DG, CSIR, who taught us to think big. He is a great inspiration to work. I would like to extend my sincere thanks to Dr. Rajesh S. Gokhale, Director, IGIB, to provide with excellent infrastructure and research environment. I would like to take this opportunity to thank Dr. Mitali Mukerji, Dr. Munia Ganguli, Dr. Arijit Mukhopadhyay, Dr. Debashis Das for their help and support at different times during my PhD. Dr. Mitali was the first person to introduce me into the research world. Her understanding of concepts and readily available guidance was very helpful to me. I thank Dr. Munia for patiently going through drafts of my papers and evaluating them. A special thanks to Dr. V.C. Kalia for always helping me with a smiling face and tirelessly giving me numerous advices whenever I needed.

I was fortunate to have wonderful labmates to work with. My seniors Praveen, Anjali and Kangkan were very understanding and helped me a lot to settle down in the lab when when I joined. Rashi and Ram Krishna Thakur guided me in a lot of experiments and also went a step ahead to take care that things went smoothly. I have bugged Vinod and Pankaj a lot for help with bio-informatics and thanks to them they gave me full cooperation. I would like to give a special thanks all my other labmates Akinchan, Dhurjhoti, Gunjan, Anirban, Richa, Maneesh, Anita, Raman, Praveen, Suruchi, Prathima and Rajiv. An extraspecial thanks to Ankita and Isha for being ever so bubbly and cheerfully helping me out always. Lab b’day parties were pleasant and enjoyable.

My stay here has been made memorable due to the companionship of people like Prashant, Rishi, Saurabh, Amit Mandal, Shilpi, Ankita, Inder, Faruq, Dhirender, Pramod, Meenakshi, Renu, Tavpritesh and all other 604 A and 611 members. A special mention to Pankaj Jha (my brother) for giving me so much love and support. I will not forget the great moments spent with Rajesh, Prashant, Faruq and Pankaj. I wish all of them best of everything in life. I would also like to express my gratitude to Jaiveer and Devesh for doing all work with such a smile. It is commendable. Special Thanks to Mr. S. P Singh.

My heartfelt thanks also go to many people whose name has not been mentioned here. Believe me that this is a shortcoming on my part for forgetting to do so because every little contribution provided by anyone was crucial for the completion of this study.

Financial support from CSIR in the form of SRF is duly acknowledged.