Acknowledgements

Often words are too inadequate to serve as a mode of expression of one’s inner feelings, especially the sense of indebtedness and gratitude, yet I shall be failing in my duty if I do not formally offer my sincerest thanks and deep sense of gratitude to all those, who helped in one way or the other in the completion of this work.

Indeed the words at my command are inadequate in form and spirit to express my deep sense of gratitude and overwhelming indebtedness to my esteemed guide Dr. Jaswinder Singh Brar, Professor, Centre for Research in Economic Change (CREC), Punjabi University, Patiala, who has all along been an immense source of inspiration and encouragement to me in completing of this work. He has given me untiring help, painstaking guidance, and constant enthusiasm from the very inception of the work, without his intellectual stimulation and personal involvement this thesis could have never seen the light of the day. I am grateful to Dr. Romesh Kumar Bansal, Professor and Head, Department of Economics, Punjabi University, Patiala for his timely assistance to me. My sincere thanks are due to all the faculty members of the Department of Economics, especially Professor Sukhwinder Singh, Professor Inderjeet Singh, Professor Lakhwinder Singh and Dr. Parmod Aggarwal for their indispensable help, valuable suggestions and encouraging behavior during my seminars.

I am also immensely grateful to the staff and authorities of various educational institutions and libraries viz. Delhi University, Jawaharlal Nehru University, National Council for Applied Economic Research (NCAER), Institute of Economic Growth, all at New Delhi; Punjabi University, Patiala; Panjab University, Chandigarh and Centre for Research in Rural and Industrial Development (CRRID), Chandigarh for rendering necessary research material and other facilities to me. I am also thankful to the non-teaching staff of Department of Economics, Punjabi University, Patiala, for their extensive cooperation.

My acknowledgements would not be completed without a mention of my father Sh. R.D.Jindal, who is my pillar of strength and guiding light all through my life. He kept on encouraging me throughout the work and never forgot to ask about the work progress every second day. He will be the happiest person to see me with a Doctorate. I am really thankful to my husband Mr. Sam Kumar, who helped me on every step in every way, whenever I was feeling low, he made me realize that I could handle home, work, study, research project and relations at the same time, without his emotional and moral support this work was not possible. I am greatly thankful to my brother, my friend, philosopher and guide, Advocate Rajnish K.Jindal, who helped me a lot to reach this stage of life, he always spared time for me in his highly tight schedule, he visited with me in slum areas late evenings and early mornings to collect the first hand information and was always there for any kind of support. I am greatly thankful to my bhabi Mrs. Babita Khichi, who was always there with me in one form or the other to encourage, help and support me in every way. I shall be failing in my duty if I do not convey my sincere thanks to my little princess Muskan whose time, so many times, I gave to my studies, when we were to go out, play and eat out in her off days, I was busy in my research work often but she always tried to understand and supported me. I would also like to present a lovely thank to my nephew Aaryan (My Raj kumar) for providing me some relaxing hours during the tiring research work. They are keenly waiting for my work to be completed as we three make great fun in holidays. I would like to pay my sincere thanks to my father-in-law Sh.R.C.Singla and my mother-in-law Smt. Ved Kumari Singla for their blessings throughout the work and my sincere thanks are also due to my brother-in-law Sh. Sunil Singla & bhabi ji Mrs. Sarita Singla and my brother-in-law Sh. Rakesh Singla & bhabi ji Mrs. Sunita Singla for always being there for me. I would like to thank Ankit, Himank, Lakshay and Mehak who always make me feel proud for my higher studies and research.

I am really grateful to Dr. A.C.Vaid, Former Principal, G.G.D.S.D.College, Chandigarh, presently working as Pro Vice Chancellor, A.P.J.University, Gurgaon for his encouragement, inspiration and guidance throughout my work. I also owe my thanks to Dr. Rajiv Behl, Associate Professor, G.G.D.S.D.College, Chandigarh; his invaluable suggestions, and encouragement have enabled me to accomplish this work. My special thanks to Professor Harpal Singh, H.O.D, Department of Electronics Engineering, Swift Technical Campus, Rajpura and Professor Ashutosh Sharma, G.G.D.S.D.College, Chandigarh for their invaluable help and moral support to complete my research work. I would express my gratitude to my sisterly friend Mrs. Seema Kumari for her immense moral support and encouragement all through my research work. I also want to thank my friends Dr. Sanju Gupta and Mrs. Sheena Garg for always being there for me.

Last but not least, I bow my head to Almighty, The Existence, GOD and My spiritual guide, OSHO who made me what I am, besides that anything and everything which helped me even this piece of paper for holding my words. Thanks and Thanks a lot.
