ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I have, indeed, been privileged to have worked under the able guidance of Professor Indu Tewari, Chairperson, Evening Studies, Faculty of Arts, Panjab University, Chandigarh. I do not find adequate words to express my deep sense of gratitude towards her. Her personal guidance, encouragement, constructive criticism, invaluable feedback and stimulating discussion at all time have been a source of inspiration to me in my work. This work has become possible only because of her priceless and constant efforts. She is a guru to me in the real sense of the word.

I extend my thanks to Chairperson, History Department, the faculty and other members of the staff. I also extend my heartiest thanks to Dr. Veena Sachdeva (former Chairperson, History Department) who gave me fruitful suggestions, Dr. Chetan Singh, Shimla University, for timely advice, Dr Benudhar Patra, Assistant Professor, PGGC College, Sector 11 Chandigarh for his valuable suggestions. I, gratefully, acknowledge the co-operation received from the staff of Punjab State Archives, Patiala, Chandigarh Archives and Himachal Pradesh archives at Shimla. Libraries at Panjab University Chandigarh, Punjabi University Patiala, Shimla University, need to be put on record for their rich collection of books. A special vote of thanks notably to department of History and Sociology, Panjab University, Chandigarh.

The study is based on the fieldwork, which often requires special favour and favour bears no fruit without the goodwill and kindness of many. The staff at Jawalamukhi temple spent long hours answering my queries. My research work is dedicated to those unsung and committed individuals who have been tirelessly working at the Jawalamukhi temple for the upkeep of the traditional sanctity of the sanctorum. The entire staff at Jawalamukhi and, in particular, Shri Rishi, Priest, needs to be mentioned for spending precious time explaining and demonstrating the rituals associated with the Jawalamukhi temple. This study would have been impossible without his infinite assistance.

It will be unfair on my part not to mention the other priests of the temple who's in-depth knowledge helped me in formalizing the study. I am indebted to Shri Rajan Sharma, Pujari, for guiding me in my field work and putting in concerted efforts in convincing other priests to part with their documented material. I also extend my sincere thanks to Pujari Vinay Sharma, Ashwani Sharma, Madhusudan, Sushil Sharma and many others for all kind of help and the material they provided me with without any hesitation.

I am grateful to the I.C.H.R. (Indian Council of Historical Research) for providing me with much needed fellowship. The grants sanctioned grants assisted me to undertake the research, since it involved commuting and interaction with various sections of people to document historical facts.

Every Government official I came across rendered help in his/her own way to carry out my task. Some such samaritans like late Shri Arvind Sharma (Chief Judicial Magistrate) Bilaspur, a member of the Bhojki community, provided insight and valuable suggestions. S.D.M. (Sub Divisional Magistrate) Gopal Sharma, Tehsildar (temple officer) and S.D.M. Rakesh Sharma who permitted me to photograph the interiors of the sanctum and architectural surroundings of the revered place and, of course, the Nagarpalika and its staff.

Though, it will take volumes to name all who need to be thanked yet a few names have an indelible imprint on my research work. My efforts would have been incomplete without mentioning a few inescapable ones i.e Dr. Zarin (guest faculty) Urdu Department, Panjab University, who translated the documents available in Urdu. Dr.
Madukar Arya, Persian Department, Panjab University Chandigarh, who translated the documents which were only available in Persian. Dr.
Ayub Khan at Urdu Academy Panchkula, who actually translated most of the record of Persian. Dr. Parmjeet for translating the Punjabi texts. I would like to extend my heart felt gratitude to Shri J.K. Puri, Advocate Punjab and Haryana High Court for translating all legal records from Hindi into English. Finally, I wish to express my profound gratitude to my mother and father and especially to my father, who has been a source of inspiration to undertake this work. Efforts put in by him deserve a special accolade in my work and I hold him in very high esteem for being such inspirational FATHER. I am indebted to my younger, sister, Dr. Tulika, who tirelessly helped me in typing my thesis and who persistently encouraged me on.
